No. 25—A. L. No. 2.—Erratum.—In notification No. 672—A. L. No. 31 of 6th December 1906, under column "Date of examination," read "November 1906" instead of "October 1906."

No. 29.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 41 of the Indian Forest Act, 1878 (VII of 1878), and with the sanction of the Governor-General in Council, given under section 77 of the same Act, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab is pleased to publish the following rules to regulate the transit of timber and other forest produce within the limits of the Ráwalpindi district:—

RULES.

1. All words used in these rules, and defined in the Indian Forest Act (Act VII of 1878, as amended by Act V of 1890), shall be deemed to have the meaning respectively attributed to them by the said Act, but timber does not include pieces of wood which are under 5 feet in length and less than 3 feet in girth.

Forest Officer means any officer of the Forest Department, and includes any person authorized by the Conservator of Forests or by the Deputy Commissioner of Ráwalpindi to do anything required to be done under these rules by a Forest Officer.

2. The Conservator of Forests may establish depôts for the examination of timber and other forest produce in transit and for the collection of dues on such timber or produce: provided that the name and situation of each depôt, and the route on which it is situated, is notified in every town and village in the neighbourhood of such depôt.

3. The Conservator of Forests may prescribe the routes by which alone forest produce may be moved.

4. No timber or other forest produce may be moved from place to place unless covered by a pass in the form prescribed by the Conservator of Forests, Punjab. Such pass shall specify the kind and quantity of timber or other forest produce, the mark it bears (if any), and the place it came from, and shall be legibly signed or stamped by the Forest Officer, or, when such timber or produce comes from a private forest, by the owner of such forest.

5. Any person purchasing Government timber may be required to register a special property mark in the office of the Forest Officer in charge of the Ráwalpindi division. The registration shall hold good to the 30th September next following. No person shall be allowed to register a mark already registered in favour of another person, nor any mark used by Government.

6. The Forest Officer may refuse to register any mark which, in his judgment, so closely resembles a mark used by Government, or registered in favour of any person as to be easily altered into such mark.

7. A fee of one rupee shall be payable for each registration, and a certificate showing the mark registered, and the period for which it holds good, and acknowledging the payment of the fee, shall be given to every person registering his mark.

8. The moving of any timber which does not bear a registered property mark as well as such Government mark as may be from time to time prescribed by the Deputy Commissioner or the Forest Officer in charge of the Ráwalpindi division, and unless it is also covered by a pass in accordance with rule 4, is prohibited.

9. Any Forest Officer or Police Officer may stop and examine any forest produce in transit, and compare it with the pass accompanying it. All persons engaged on the transport of any forest produce must produce the passes under which such produce is being moved on being called upon to do so by any Forest Officer or Police Officer.

10. The Commissioner of Ráwalpindi, the Conservator of Forests, the Deputy Commissioner of Ráwalpindi or the Forest Officer in charge of the Ráwalpindi Forest Division may exempt the inhabitants of any locality, or any class of timber or other forest produce, from the operation of any of these rules.

11. Any person who disobeys a requisition under rule 5 shall be liable to fine which may extend to one hundred rupees, and any person who infringes any other of these rules shall be liable to imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to six months, or to a fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or to both.

The rules to regulate the transit of timber and other forest produce imported into the Ráwalpindi district across the Jhelum river, published with Punjab Government notification No. 99, dated the 4th of March 1901, are hereby cancelled.

GENERAL.

The 19th January 1907.

No. 83.—Notification.—The following is republished for general information :—

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), No. 2831—42, dated 8th December 1899.

THE Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others, who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians who desire to return to their country and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education.

2. In order to enable the Secretary of State to deal with such cases satisfactorily the Governor General in Council has decided that it is necessary to press upon Indian students and others visiting England the desirability of providing themselves, before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of identity, in the form appended to this resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer as the case may be.

Punjab Government Notifications and Orders.

FOREST DEPARTMENT.

The 24th January 1907.

No. 79.—Notification.—In exercise of the power conferred by the rules for the conservancy of forests and jungles in the hill districts of the Punjab territories mentioned in the first schedule of the Punjab Laws Act, 1872 (IV of 1872), and in supersession of Punjab Government notifications No. 457, dated 10th November 1870, and No. 483, dated 29th November 1880, the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab is pleased to make the following rules:—

1. These rules apply to the waste and uncultivated areas within the boundaries of the villages in the tahsíl of Ráwalpindi in the Ráwalpindi district specified in the schedule hereunto annexed.

2. In respect to the tracts to which these orders apply, the directions previously issued by the Commissioner of Ráwalpindi in 1856 are cancelled.

3. Under the authority contained in the 5th of the Governor-General's rules, it is hereby declared that all village residents are entitled to wood for their agricultural and domestic purposes from the trees and shrubs of spontaneous growth produced by the waste lands of the villages in which they reside. Ordinarily no charge shall be made on account of this privilege; nor shall any permission be requisite prior to its exercise. But under special circumstances, for sufficient reason shown, the Deputy Commissioner may impose a fee, or require a written application, for the felling of timber.

4. Under the authority contained in the 7th of the Governor-General's rules, the partition or cultivation of uncultivated hill lands held in common, whether actually bearing timber and brushwood, or suited to such a purpose, is prohibited, except in cases in which the persons desiring the partition or cultivation can show that the operation will leave sufficient provision for the exercise of the privileges granted by the preceding rule.

5. Under the same authority, the sale of wood to military cantonments, to the Public Works Department, to charcoal and surkhi burners, and to contractors and railways is prohibited, except with the permission, in writing, of the Deputy Commissioner previously obtained. Such permission shall not be granted except, in special cases, where the proposed sales will not interfere with the due supply of the residents of the village and its vicinity. All other previous restrictions on the sale of wood are hereby removed. This rule does not prohibit the preparation of surkhi and charcoal by villagers for their reasonable wants.

6. Nothing in these orders shall be construed—

(1) as conferring privilege in demarcated rakhs;

(2) nor so as to affect cultivated trees;

(3) nor so as to warrant the cutting of timber and fuel for sale by persons who are not proprietors of the land on which it is cut;

(4) nor so as to restrict the Deputy Commissioner or Forest Officers in their management of Government rakhs.

7. Any person who may infringe any of the above rules shall be punished for each offence with a fine which may extend to rupees one hundred and in default of payment with imprisonment which may extend to three months.

No. 183.—Notification.—The following rules for the regulation of vaccine operations in the municipality of Ludhiána made under section 19 of Act XIII of 1880 by the municipal committee of Ludhiána at a special meeting have been confirmed by the Lieutenant-Governor, and are published for general information.

They will come into force six weeks from the date of the publication of this notification :—

RULES.

Appointment of vaccine stations.

I.—The municipal committee shall from time to time appoint sixteen public vaccine stations for the municipality at such places as the Civil Surgeon may, in consultation with the committee, approve, and shall similarly fix the days and hours at which each station shall be open, and shall cause to be affixed on the outside of such places in a conspicuous position sign-boards on which shall be printed in letters easily legible and in English and vernacular characters the following inscription :—"No. Municipal Vaccine Station. Open every day from 10 A.M to 4 P.M.," and these stations shall be numbered and known as No. 1, No. 2, No. 3, No. 4, No. 5, and so on up to No. 16 respectively.

Appointment of public vaccinators. Distinguishing badge to be worn by public vaccinator.

II.—For these public vaccine stations the municipal committee shall appoint one public vaccinator.

The vaccinator so appointed shall ordinarily wear a distinguishing badge on the breast consisting of a red cross on a white ground with the following words on it :—"Vaccinator, Ludhiána Municipality."

Qualifications of public vaccinator.

III.—No person shall be appointed a public vaccinator unless he has obtained a certificate from the Sanitary Commissioner of the Punjab that he is duly qualified to perform vaccination as prescribed by Act XIII of 1880.

Authority to appoint, suspend and dismiss public vaccinators.

IV.—The appointment, suspension and dismissal of every Superintendent of Vaccination and public vaccinator employed within the limits of the municipality shall rest with the Sanitary Commissioner, Punjab.

Vaccination season.

V.—The vaccination season will extend from 1st November to 31st March inclusive.

Note for vaccinators.—Although the Vaccination Act does not render liable to punishment the omission to get children under the age of six months vaccinated, yet it is very desirable that children should be vaccinated at an earlier age. As a rule, all healthy unprotected children over one month old presented for vaccination should be vaccinated by the public vaccinators.

Time of attendance of public vaccinators, and their residence.

VI.—During the vaccination season the public vaccinator shall be bound to attend at the vaccine station to which he may be attached by the Civil Surgeon (or other medical officer duly appointed for the purpose) on the days and hours fixed for such station, and he shall reside in the municipality.

Nature of the lymph to be ordinarily used.

VII.—The lymph to be used in the performance of vaccination shall be pure lymph obtained on the fifth day, taken from the udder or from the soft skin in the neighbourhood of the udder, of a buffalo under the age of one year which is free from contagious disease and has perfect full sized vesicles, or vaccine paste prepared from buffalo calves at the recognized provincial vaccine depôt.

Vaccination by human lymph.

VIII.—If the parent or guardian of a child produced for vaccination desires that human lymph should be used, the vaccinator shall comply, and the lymph shall be taken from a child, subject to its parent's or guardian's consent, that has two perfect vesicles left untouched on the arm to run their regular course.

Number of children to be vaccinated from each vesicle or from each buffalo calf or child used for the supply of lymph.

IX.—Not more than two children shall be vaccinated from each full sized vesicle opened for the purpose of extraction of lymph, and not more than 60 children from a single buffalo calf, or 6 children from a single child.

Facilities for procuring vaccination of children at private houses, and the fee payable to a public vaccinator for an operation outside his own circle.

X.—Persons desirous of procuring the vaccination of their children at their own houses shall intimate the fact to the public vaccinator or any of the public vaccinators, who out of the hours of his public duties shall arrange with the applicant to vaccinate the child. A fee of one anna shall be payable to a public vaccinator who so vaccinates a child elsewhere than in the circle for which such vaccinator is appointed.

Fee chargeable by private vaccinators, and the authority to which they are subject.

XI.—Persons licensed by the Local Government to act as private vaccinators shall in no case demand a larger fee than eight annas for a single operation, and shall perform their duties under the orders and subject to the general control of the Civil Surgeon.

Re-vaccination, and the age of the child.

XII.—If the result of the first vaccination is a failure the child should be re-vaccinated. If this second operation is also a failure a third attempt should be made. If this also is unsuccessful it is needless to repeat it again.

Grant and form of certificate of successful vaccination; unfitness for, or insusceptibility of, vaccination.

XIII.—Whenever it is ascertained that a child is unfit for vaccination or is insusceptible of successful vaccination, a certificate in form A attached to these rules shall be granted in the former case to the parent or guardian of such child by the vaccinator, and in the latter in the form B by the medical officer or vaccination officer duly appointed for the purpose. In like manner, whenever it is ascertained that a child has been successfully vaccinated, a certificate shall be granted by the vaccinator to the parent or guardian of such child in the form C attached to these rules.

Registers to be kept by the municipal committee.

XIV.—The following registers shall be kept by the municipal committee:—

(A) A register showing the names of children born within the local area subject to these rules on or after the date of the application of Act XIII of 1880 to such area.

(C) A register showing the name of unprotected boys and girls respectively under these ages brought within the local area aforesaid at any time after the application of Act XIII of 1880 and who had resided there for a month.

(D) A register showing the result of each vaccination or its postponement and the delivery of certificates, if any.

Rules for the preparation of the registers.

XV.—The preparation of register (A) shall be effected from the register of births maintained in the municipal office or police office; of registers (B) and (C) from the information to be collected under the orders of the Secretary of the municipal committee; of register (D) from the reports submitted by the vaccinator as hereinafter prescribed.

Registers to be kept by vaccinator.

XVI.—Every public and private vaccinator employed within the local area to which these rules apply shall keep up the following registers:—

GOVERNMENT OF THE PUNJAB.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

IRRIGATION BRANCH.

Resolution by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab and its Dependencies.

Dated Lahore, the 25th April 1907.

RESOLUTION.—From certain representations which he has received, the Lieutenant-Governor is aware that some dissatisfaction has been aroused by the enhancement of occupiers' rates upon the Upper Bari Doab Canal which has been announced by Punjab Government, Irrigation Branch, notification No. 313 R. I., dated 25th October 1906,—to take effect from the approaching kharif.

Unfortunately untimely rain has injured what promised to be a bumper rabi crop; while plague has committed unprecedented ravages in the districts which are irrigated by the canal in question and it is feared that labour will in some cases be wanting for the harvest. Under these circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor has no hesitation in deciding that the present is not an opportune moment for introducing a substantial enhancement of the demands upon the cultivators and he is therefore pleased to postpone the operation of the notification cited above for one year, i.e., until the kharif of 1908. He is the better abl o adopt this course, because he gladly recognizes that the villagers of the districts affected have refrained from any public agitation of a character which would make it difficult to grant concessions to those concerned.

Meanwhile, the Lieutenant-Governor will have the enhanced rates again examined with reference to the representations which have been submitted to him; but he can make no promises whatever as to the result of that examination.

By order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor,

E. H. PARGITER,

Secretary to Government, Punjab.

The 18th May 1907.

No. 1264.—Notification.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 17, sub-section (2), of the Cantonments Act, 1889 (XIII of 1889), and with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab is pleased to apply to the cantonment of Siálkot, in the Siálkot district, the provisions of sections 49 to 61 (both inclusive), 63, 64 and 201 of the Punjab Municipal Act (XX of 1891), regarding the assessment and recovery of taxes in the adapted form set forth in the schedule hereto annexed.

THE SCHEDULE.

Sections 49—61 (both inclusive), 63, 64 and 201 of the Punjab Municipal Act (XX of 1891) as adapted for the purposes of the assessment and recovery of all taxes imposed in the Siálkot cantonment in the Siálkot district under section 17, sub-section (1), of the Cantonments Act (XIII of 1899).

Section 49.

1. No assessment and no charge or demand of any tax shall be impeached or affected by reason of any mistake in the name, residence, place of business or occupation of any person liable to pay the tax or in the description of any property or thing liable to the tax, or of any mistake in the amount of assessment or tax or by reason of any clerical error or other defect of form; and it shall be enough in any tax on property, or any assessment of value for the purpose of any such tax, if the property taxed or assessed is so described as to be generally known; and it shall not be necessary to name the owner or occupier thereof.

Section 50.

2. Taxes shall be payable on such dates and in such instalments (if any) as the Cantonment Committee, with previous sanction of the Deputy Commissioner, may from time to time direct.

Section 51.

3. For all sums paid on account of any tax a receipt, stating the amount and the tax on account of which it has been paid, shall be given by the person receiving the same, on request by the person making the payment.

Section 52.

4. (1) An appeal against the assessment or levy of any tax shall lie to the Deputy Commissioner or to such other officer as may be empowered by the Local Government in this behalf:

Provided that, when the Deputy Commissioner or such other officer as aforesaid is a member of the Cantonment Committee, the appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the Division.

(2) If, on the hearing of an appeal under this rule, any question as to the liability to, or the principle of assessment of, a tax arises, on which the officer hearing the appeal entertains reasonable doubt, he may, either of his own motion or on the application of any person interested, draw up a statement of the facts of the case and the point on which doubt is entertained, and refer the statement with his own opinion on the point for the decision of the Chief Court.

(3) On reference being made under this rule, the subsequent proceedings in the case shall be, as nearly as may be, in conformity with the rules relating to references to the High Court contained in chapter XLVI of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(4) In every appeal the costs shall be in the discretion of the officer deciding the appeal.

(5) Costs awarded under this section to the Cantonment Committee shall be recoverable by the Committee as though they were arrears of a tax due from the appellant.

(6) If the Committee fails to pay any costs awarded to an appellant within ten days after the date of the order for payment thereof, the officer awarding the costs may order the person having the custody of the balance of the Cantonment Fund to pay the amount.

Section 53.

Provided that an appeal may be admitted after the expiration of the period prescribed therefor by this rule if the appellant satisfies the officer before whom the appeal is preferred that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal within that period.

(2) No appeal shall be entertained unless the appellant has paid all taxes due from him to the Cantonment Committee up to the date of such appeal.

6. No objection shall be taken to any valuation or assessment, nor shall the liability of any person to be assessed or taxed be questioned, in any other manner or by any other authority than is provided in those rules.

Section 54.

7. (1) The Cantonment Committee may, by written communication, call upon any inhabitant of the Cantonment to furnish such information as may be necessary in order to ascertain whether such inhabitant is liable to pay any tax.

Section 55.

(2) If any inhabitant so called upon to furnish information omits to furnish it or furnishes information which is untrue, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees.

8. (1) The Cantonment Committee shall cause an assessment list of the buildings on which the tax on buildings is imposed, to be prepared, containing—

Section 56.

(a) the name of the street or division in which the building is situated ;

(b) the designation of the building, either by name or by number, sufficient for identification ;

(c) the names of the owner and occupier, if known ;

(d) the annual value, area or length of frontage on which the building is assessed ; and

(e) the amount of the tax assessed thereon by the Committee.

(2) For the purpose of preparing the list, the Cantonment Committee may require the owners or occupiers of the building to furnish it with the returns of the measurements and of the rent or annual value.

9. Where the assessment list has been completed, the Cantonment Committee shall give public notice thereof, and of the place where the list or a copy thereof may be inspected ; and every person claiming to be either owner or occupier of any building included in the list, and any agent of such person, shall be at liberty to inspect the lists and to make extracts therefrom without charge.

Section 57.

10. (1) The Cantonment Committee shall at the time of the publication of such assessment list give public notice of a time, not less than one month thereafter, when it will proceed to revise the valuation and assessment ; and in all cases in which any building is for the first time assessed, or the assessment there of is increased, it shall also give notice thereof to the owner or occupier of the building.

Section 58.

(2) All objections to the valuation and assessment shall be made in writing before the time fixed in the notice, or orally or in writing at that time.

Section 59. 11. (1) After the objections have been enquired into and the persons making them have been allowed an opportunity of being heard either in person or by authorized agent, as they may think fit, and the revision of the valuation and assessment has been completed, amendments made in the list shall be authenticated by the signatures of not less than two members of the Cantonment Committee, who shall at the same time certify that no valid objection has been made to the valuation and assessment contained in the list except in the cases in which amendments have been entered therein; and, subject to such amendments as may thereafter be duly made, the tax so assessed shall be deemed to be the tax for the year commencing on the first day of January next ensuing, as also, in the case of a tax then imposed for the first time, for the period between the commencement of the tax and such first day of January.

(2) The list when amended under this section shall be deposited in the Cantonment Committee's office and shall there be open during office hours to all owners or occupiers of buildings comprised therein, or the agents of such persons, and a public notice that it is so open shall forthwith be published.

Section 60. 12. (1) The Cantonment Committee may at any time amend the list by inserting the name of any person whose name ought to have been inserted, or by inserting any building which ought to have been inserted, or by altering the assessment on any building which has been erroneously valued or assessed through fraud, accident or mistake, after giving notice, to any person interested in the amendment, of a time not less than one month from the date of service of such notice at which the amendment is to be made.

(2) Any person interested in any such amendment may tender his objection to the Cantonment Committee in writing before the time fixed in the notice, or orally or in writing at that time, and shall be allowed an opportunity of being heard in support of the same in person or by authorized agent, as he may think fit.

Section 61. 13 It shall be in the discretion of the Cantonment Committee to prepare a new assessment list every year, or to adopt the valuation and assessment contained in the list for any year, with such alterations as may in particular cases be deemed necessary, as the valuation and assessment for the year following, giving the same notice of the valuation and assessment as if a new assessment list had been prepared.

Section 63. 14. (1) A tax on buildings and lands, other than a water-tax, shall be paid by the owner of the property in respect of which it is payable.

(2) A water-tax shall be paid by the occupier of the property in respect of which it is payable.

Section 64. 15. (1) When any sum is due on account of a tax payable in respect of any property by the owner thereof, the Cantonment Committee shall cause a bill for the amount, stating the property and the period for which the charge is made, to be delivered to the person liable to pay the same.

(2) If the bill be not paid within ten days from the delivery thereof, the Committee may cause a notice of demand to be served on that person; and, if he does not, within seven days from the service of the notice, pay the sum due with any fee leviable for the notice, or show sufficient cause for non-payment, the sum due, with the fee, shall be deemed to be an arrear of tax.

(3) The amount of every such arrear besides being recoverable in the manner hereafter provided by rule 16 shall, subject to any claim on behalf of His Majesty, be a first charge on the property in respect of which it is payable, and shall be recoverable, on application made in this behalf by the Cantonment Committee to the Collector, as if the property were an estate assessed to land-revenue and the arrear of such revenue due thereon:

Provided that nothing in this rule shall authorize the arrest of a defaulter.

16. Any arrears of any tax recoverable by the Cantonment Committee under these rules may be recovered, on application to a Magistrate having jurisdiction within the limits of the Cantonment, or in any other place where the person from whom the money is claimable may for the time being be resident, by the distress and sale of any moveable property within the limits of his jurisdiction belonging to such person.

JUDICIAL.

[First publication.]

The 18th May 1907

No. 487.—Notification.—The following revised rules framed under the provisions of section 14 (1), clause (a), of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, to regulate the preparation of a printed record in first appeals admitted to a Single or Division Bench of the Chief Court where the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit exceeds five thousand rupees or the appeal is from a decree of a Divisional Judge in an original suit, have been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor and are published for general information in supersession of the rules published in Chief Court notification No. 3349 G., dated 29th August 1893 :—

RULES.

I.—In first appeals from orders no printing will be required unless specially directed by the Admitting Judge, who will in that case order at his discretion the printing of either (1) an ordinary paper book or (2) a printed record under these rules.

II.—In first appeals from decrees admitted to a hearing, a printed record shall, unless special orders are given to the contrary, be prepared in accordance with the instructions hereinafter contained.

III.—In the absence of a special order under rule II the printed record shall consist of—

(1) The plaint, pleas and any documents referred to in the plaint as forming the basis of the suit or considered by the Lower Court in its judgment, translated into English if in Vernacular ;

(2) The autograph English record of the First Court as it stands (omitting papers which have to be printed under clause (1)). The autograph record will be translated if in Vernacular ;

(3) The report of the local Commissioner, if any, whether appointed under section 392, section 394, or section 396 of the Civil Procedure Code, translated if in Vernacular. With the report should be printed any statements of the parties recorded before the Commissioner and tabular statements prepared by him, if they form an integral portion of his report;

(4) Evidence taken on commission under chapter XXV of the Civil Procedure Code, translated if in Vernacular ;

(5) The grounds of appeal to the Chief Court in English ;

(6) The order of the Judge in Chambers admitting the appeal.

IV.—Any part of the record not printed under rule III may be referred to at the hearing with permission of the Court.

V.—Before the record is finally arranged and transcribed, the appellant and respondent shall be informed of the documents that will be included in the printed record, and if they desire the inclusion of any other documents these may be added at the expense of the party who desires such addition made, provided that he intimates his wishes within one month of the date on which he is informed under this rule, and pays within ten days any printing fee demanded from him, failing which the additional documents will not be printed.

VI.—All documents included in the printed record shall be printed according to their serial order, first those produced by the plaintiff and then those produced by the defendant. On each document shall be endorsed the order and date on which it was admitted by the Lower Court.

VII.—Vernacular documents printed by desire of parties under rule V shall ordinarily be transliterated and not translated, unless especially desired by the party at whose instance they are included in the printed record.

VIII.—(a) In every appeal in which under these rules a record has to be printed the appellant shall with his appeal deposit one hundred rupees as an advance to cover the cost of printing the record. Until this deposit is made the appeal shall not be set down for a preliminary hearing, and no ad interim order for stay of execution or other relief shall be passed.

(b) When after deposit an ad interim order has been passed it shall be discharged unless the further deposit, if any, required by rule IX is made within the period specified.

IX.—If the deposit required under rule VIII prove insufficient to cover the cost of the printed record, the Deputy Registrar may, by a notice in writing, require that such further deposit as seems to him necessary shall be made within a time to be specified in such notice.

Note.—If the total sum required as deposits under rules VIII and IX exceeds Rs. 200, the matter will be reported for the orders of a Judge.

X.—If the appellant fails to make the deposit required by rule VIII, or to make, within the time allowed, the supplementary deposit required, by rule IX, the case will be consigned to the record-room or otherwise disposed of as the Court may direct, and the appellant will be informed accordingly. Should the appellant thereafter apply (on proper stamp) to have the appeal brought out of the record-room and to deposit the printing fee, the Deputy Registrar may send for the case from the record-room, and if the explanation of delay appears to be satisfactory and does not exceed one month, receive the printing fee and issue notice. If the delay be more than one month or the explanation appears unsatisfactory, the Deputy Registrar shall take the orders of a Judge whether the appeal should be restored to the pending file.

XI.—The period fixed by rule IX for the payment of the deposit may, on cause being shown in an application duly stamped, be enlarged by an order of the Court which may further in its discretion permit the fee to be paid by instalments.

XII.—Such number of copies of the record shall be printed as the Court may, by general rule in this behalf, or by special order in any particular case, direct.

Note.—The number of copies ordinarily to be printed has, for the present, been fixed at thirteen.

XIII.—The appellant and respondent may each obtain two copies of the printed record free of charge and one additional copy free of charge for each pleader or advocate employed in excess of two. Additional copies, if available, may be purchased at two annas per page of printed matter.

XIV.—Parties and counsel shall be entitled to receive copies of the printed record on application to the Deputy Registrar at least one month before the date fixed for hearing.

XV. (a)—At the foot of every printed record, in respect of which a fee has been levied, shall be noted the amount of the printing and incidental charges, and the party from whom levied, and such amount shall be included in the costs of the appeal, unless the Court shall in any case otherwise direct.

(b)—Should the amount so charged be less than the sum or sums deposited under rules VIII and IX the Deputy Registrar shall refund the unexpended balance to the party by whom the deposit was made. Should it be more he will take action under rules IX and X.

XVI.—The Deputy Registrar may, in his discretion, and if so required by either party by petition duly stamped, shall refer to the Court any matter not herein expressly required to be referred.

XVII.—For all purposes of these rules, when an order of the Court is required, the order of one Judge shall be sufficient, and such order shall, subject to reconsideration by a Division Bench at the hearing of the appeal, be conclusive.

XVIII. (a)—When an order has been made by a Bench under section 566 or section 568 of the Code of Civil Procedure, in an appeal to which these rules have been applied, and additional evidence has been taken in pursuance of such order, a Judge may at any time after completion of the record of the enquiry, make an order that a supplementary printed record be prepared of (1) the order made under section 566 or section 568, Civil Procedure Code, and (2) the proceedings taken thereunder or any part thereof;

(b)—The order shall direct by which party or parties the expense of preparing the supplementary record or of any part thereof, shall be borne in the first instance;

(c)—When a Judge's order for the preparation of a supplementary record has been made, the Deputy Registrar shall deal with the matter under the foregoing rules so far as applicable.

SCARCITY.

The 23rd May 1907.

No. 133 S.—Notification.—The following correspondence is published for general information.

No. 24, (Rev. and Agri.—Scarcity), dated the 18th April 1907.

From—The Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department.

I AM directed to submit, for the information of the Government of India, a copy of a letter No. 33 of 12th February 1907, from the Commissioner, Delhi division, forwarding the report and returns on the recent famine in the Rohtak district, and to say that the Lieutenant-Governor concurs in the Commissioner's commendation of the work of Mr. Burton and his staff.

2. The relief operations worked smoothly and well, and, apart from the one or two minor difficulties brought to notice in paragraph XIII of the report, it is evident that the provisions of the Code are adequate and suitable. The operations have also brought out the value of centralized rather than local works.

3. I am to add that, as famine was not declared in any other district, this report represents that prescribed in sections XXIV and XXV of Appendix A of the Punjab Famine Code; and that, in accordance with the former of these sections, the Lieutenant-Governor proposes to publish it after a month from the date of this letter, unless he receives instructions to the contrary.

No. 33, dated Delhi, 12th February 1907.

From—W. R. H. MERK, Esquire, C. S. I., Commissioner, Delhi division,

To—The Under-Secretary to Government, Punjab, Revenue Department.

IN reply to your letter No. 150 of the 3rd November 1906, I have the honour to forward the final report and returns on the famine in the Rohtak district, which I have just received from the Deputy Commissioner, a copy of whose forwarding letter is enclosed.

2. Mr. Burton rose to the occasion and met the famine with energy, coolness and circumspection; he worked hard himself and got good work out of his subordinates. The measures he took were adequate without lavish expenditure, and a recent tour in Rohtak district has shown me that his prompt and judicious distribution of takávi has produced an excellent effect and has very materially helped the people to recover from the effects of the famine.

3. I concur with his commendations of his staff, and have asked him if he proposes any rewards for those who have done best.

No. 21 G., dated 6th February 1907.

From—F. H. BURTON, Esquire, Deputy Commissioner, Rohtak,

To—The Commissioner, Delhi division.

WITH reference to rule XXIV, appendix A, of the Famine Code, I have the honour to submit a review of the famine relief operations which were carried out in this district last year.

2. In doing so, I have the honour to bring to notice the valuable assistance given me by Lála Sandár Chand, Revenue Assistant, both in the organization and conduct of the famine relief operations and in the distribution of takávi which was carried out at the conclusion of these operations, and the services rendered by Lála Harde Rám, Tahsíldár of Rohtak, who for some time, owing to the deputation of the Náib Tahsíldár to the charge of a famine relief work, had an exceptionally heavy task in supervising the distribution of gratuitous relief, and whose work in connection with the distribution of takávi was excellent.

Lála Hari Chand, Extra Assistant Commissioner, who was deputed to this district for famine work, also displayed extraordinary energy in supervising the operations in his sub-division, and his work deserves high praise, but he was transferred at the end of three months to take charge of the Sirsa sub-division, and so did not serve throughout the famine.

3. Amongst Náib Tahsíldárs, I would especially mention Kali Charan Kishore, Náib Tahsíldár of Jhajjar, and Mahmúd Hussain, Náib Tahsíldár of Rohtak. The former worked well during the famine, and did excellent work in connection with the distribution of takávi; the latter was in charge of non-departmental famine works and of the Bakra tank work up to the middle of May, and he supervised and conducted the operations in connection with both very carefully and thoroughly; later he helped in the distribution of gratuitous relief and of takávi.

4. Of the Náib Tahsíldár candidates who were deputed here for famine duty, Raghbír Singh, who was the officer in charge of the Mandauthi tank, did exceptionally good work and deserves praise. The Mandauthi tank was the largest famine work in the district, and all the arrangements in connection with it were very well done. Raghbír Singh had to live on the work amidst great discomfort from first to last; he displayed administrative ability, and was honest and industrious. Kausal Kishore, who was in charge of the Bakra tank work from the middle of May to end of July, also did good work.

5. Of the clerical staff, I should like to mention the services of Mr. Foy, my Head Clerk, and of M. Jamiat Singh, the Superintendent of my vernacular office, on both of whom the famine entailed very heavy work and who were of great assistance to me.

6. I should also like to mention in conclusion the excellent supervision maintained by Mr. R. J. Owen, Civil Surgeon, over the medical and sanitary arrangements in connection with relief works throughout the famine operations.

SUBJECT No. I.—The economic and agricultural conditions of the affected tract before the famine.

THE agricultural prospects of the district began to give rise to anxiety in August 1905. The first good rain was not received until the 12th and 13th July and only amounted to 1·95 inch. After that there was no further fall worthy of mention until the 11th September and then only 1 inch was received. The famine may therefore be said to have commenced after the rabi harvest of 1905. The crops in rabi 1905 were very fair in most parts of the district, but had been damaged by the severe frost which occurred in February of that year, and, in a certain number of villages in the Jhajjar tahsíl and in the centre of the district, they failed owing to lack of rain. The kharif harvest of 1904 was everywhere good except in the same villages situated in the centre of the district, which then also suffered from want of rain. Rabi 1904 was bad; kharif 1903 was on the whole good. The crops of 1901-02 were all bad, but those of 1900-01 had been excellent. In 1899-1900 there was the severe famine of that year, which followed two years of bad crops and a year of scarcity. Since the famine of 1899-1900 therefore there had been four good harvests, one very fair one and five bad ones, and the three harvests immediately preceding the famine consisted of a bad one, a good one and a very fair harvest. But, at the time of good harvests, considerable arrears of land revenue and takávi were collected, and the good harvests following the famine of 1899-1900 were not sufficient to enable the zamíndárs to pay off their debts and to compensate for the effects of the bad harvests and times of scarcity and famine. In canal-irrigated villages a fairly large proportion of the zamíndárs had stocks of grain which carried them through the famine, but the poorer zamíndárs and the kamíns had no such stocks to fall back on. Since the construction of the Southern Punjab Railway village banias have given up stocking large stores of grain and have taken to importing what they require from time to time from places outside the district; there was therefore a very insufficient supply of grain within the district when the rains failed in July. Fodder was even scarcer than food-grains, and this was a very serious matter to the zamíndárs who depend largely in times of scarcity on the profits they obtain from selling butter and ghi. Fodder crops are grown in the kharíf, and although the harvests of kharíf 1904 and kharíf 1903 were on the whole good, they were not first class harveets like that of kharíf 1900. Owing to the unprecedented scanty rainfall in 1905 no grass or other kind of wild fodder which usually springs up during the rains was to be had, and the stocks of jowár and bájra stalks which some villages were fortunate enough to possess consisted mostly of fodder stored up from kharíf 1900. Only a few villages, chiefly in the Jhajjar tahsíl, possessed such reserves of fodder, and a great part of these belonged to banias to whom they had been previously sold by the zamíndárs. The outlook when the rains failed in such an extraordinary manner was therefore gloomy in the extreme, and the zamíndárs hastened to sell as many of their cattle as possible. Fortunately, good rain fell in the Hissar and adjoining districts in September, so that very fair prices were obtained for the large number of cattle which were disposed of at the Jaházgarh fair in September 1905 and at other fairs in the vicinity which took place about the same time.

SUBJECT NO. II.—The cause of the famine and the extent of the failure of the harvests.

The average of fifty years' rainfall of this district during the four months June to September is 17 inches, and on this rainfall both the kharíf and rabi crops depend, the former being sown in July and the latter in September. In 1905 the total rainfall during these four months was only 4 inches, of which 2 inches fell on the 12th and 13th July and 1 inch on the 11th, 12th and 13th September. As a result of this the whole of the kharíf crops on báráni or rain land failed, and no crops at all were sown on such land for rabi 1906. In place of an average for the previous five years of 521,631 acres of matured crops in kharíf and 212,000 acres in rabi (both of which averages are low on account of a large number of bad harvests—areas of matured crops in 1900-01 were kharíf 678,728, rabi 424,944), there were only 107,000 acres of matured crops in kharíf 1905 (of which 35,000 acres were returned as unirrigated and must have consisted almost entirely of failed crops) and 119,900 acres in rabi 1906. Taking the average matured areas of the staple food-grains only of the past five years, and applying the average yields given in volume I of the Agricultural Statistics of India, the estimated average outturn of staple food-grains comes to nearly 37 lakhs of maunds, whereas the estimated total outturn of such grains during 1905-06 works out to a little less than 12 lakhs of maunds only. That this was insufficient for the needs of the district is shown by the fact that the excess of imports of grain over exports by rail alone during the 12 months August 1905 to July 1906 amounted to no less than 14 lakhs of maunds compared with an excess of imports over exports of 30,000 maunds in the 12 months August 1904 to July 1905.

In addition to this extensive failure of crops, there was, as already mentioned, a severe fodder famine. There was no grass or other kind of wild fodder owing to the abnormally scanty rainfall, and the zamíndárs generally had no reserves of fodder to fall back on. Even on irrigated tracts like the Gohána tahsíl fodder was extremely scarce and dear, as practically the whole of the irrigated land had been put under cotton and sugarcane in the kharíf. A scarcity of fodder also existed in adjoining districts, so that the prices of the ordinary kinds of fodder were 5 to 10 times the normal.

Owing to scarcity and famine in other parts of India combined with the extensive failure of the crops in this district, prices of food-grains also ruled high. In September 1905 wheat was selling at Rs. 35 per cent. above the price of the previous year, and barley, gram, bájra and jowár were selling at prices 53, 58, 60 and 75 per cent., respectively, above the prices of the previous year: the prices of all these grains were above warning rates in that month. They gradually rose still higher until in January 1906 the prices at head-quarters in seers to the rupee were as below, compared with the scarcity rates for the first quarter of the year:—

| | Wheat. | Barley | Gram. | Jowár. | Bájra. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Prices in January 1906 ... ... | 11 | 14 | 13½ | 13 | 12 |
| Scarcity rates ... ... ... | 10 | 13 | 13 | 14 | 13 |

whilst in outlying villages, owing to cost of transport by road, they were still higher. Owing to the good rain which fell in the middle of February and in March and which revived the crops in other parts of the province at the eleventh hour and assured a good rabi harvest of wheat, barley and gram, prices of these three food-grains fell in March 1906 and still further in May, but their average prices for the seven months January to July 1906 were warning rate (13 seers to the rupee), 1¼ seers above warning rate (warning rate 18½ seers to the rupee) and 2¼ seers above warning rate (warning rate 18 seers to the rupee) respectively. The prices of jowár and bájra averaged scarcity rates throughout these seven months, viz., 13 seers and 12¼ seers to the rupee respectively. There was also a great dearth of water in villages away from the canal-irrigated tracts until the rain of February and March was received. The village tanks became quite dry in many places, and the water in the wells which generally depends on the tank water, turned brackish in many of the villages. The water-supply of a few villages failed entirely, and they had to depend for their water-supply upon wells situated several miles away in other villages.

SUBJECT NO. III.—The area, population and classes affected, and the degree of distress.

The total area of the district is 1,797 square miles, with a population of 630,672. When the preliminary famine report was submitted at the beginning of February 1906, it was estimated that, of the total area and population of the district, 930 square miles with a population of 320,100 would be affected with famine. Fortunately good rain fell at the eleventh hour in the middle of February, and in March, which assured good canal and well-irrigated crops where such means of irrigation existed, saved the irrigated crops in other parts of the province and caused prices, which would otherwise have risen still higher, to fall. A number of villages in the north of the Rohtak tahsíl where canal-irrigation exists and in the south of the Jhajjar tahsíl where wells are numerous, which had been included in the estimated famine affected area, were thus saved to a considerable extent, and although they were hard hit by the scarcity and it was necessary to distribute gratuitous relief to numbers of poor people in such villages, they cannot perhaps be said to have been actually in the throes of famine. The actual famine affected area I estimate at 537 miles, with a population of 162,105, and this consists almost entirely of villages with no means of irrigation which had no crops at all either in kharíf 1905 or rabi 1906 and includes a number of villages in the centre of the district which owing to uneven rainfall had practically had no crops at all for two years. As gratuitous relief however was practically distributed throughout the area of 930 square miles estimated in the preliminary report, this area will be taken as the famine affected area for the purposes of this report.

On departmental works the numbers of agriculturists and menials were almost exactly equal, but this indicates greater distress amongst the menials, as their numbers are not so great as those of the other class. As regards persons in receipt of gratuitous relief, the majority of them were menials, and it may be said that in the villages in the north of Rohtak tahsíl and south of Jhajjar tahsíl, which might perhaps be described as the "scarcity portion" of the famine affected area, the distress amongst menials was relatively far greater than amongst agriculturists. As regards agriculturists, the majority who were in receipt of relief were Jats on account of their numerical superiority over other tribes and classes, but Hindu Rájpúts were probably the worst of all, as they are not good agriculturists and always suffer severely in times of scarcity and famine. It was found necessary to distribute gratuitous relief to a large number of respectable pardah women of this class, and many others who refused to take relief at all were on the verge of starvation.

The distress during the famine was severe, but the opening of relief works at an early stage, the distribution of gratuitous relief, the restricted famine area and the comparatively low prices which prevailed prevented it becoming acute. Had it not been for the good rain of February and March which saved the irrigated rabi crops both in the district and in other parts of the province, prices would have been much higher and the distress would have become far more widespread and acute. As it was, the condition of the people on works was generally good, it was unnecessary to open poor-houses, and no deaths from starvation were reported. In May and June there was an excess of mortality attributed to fever. The Civil Surgeon is of opinion that these were probably due to plague, but possibly some of them may also have been indirectly due to lack of nourishment in the case of old and weakly persons; as it is undoubtedly the case that many persons had to exist on much less than their ordinary amount of food, especially Hindu Rájpúts who were extremely reluctant to come on to relief works. Such cases, however, if any, must have been very rare, judging from the condition of the people on relief works and of those in receipt of gratuitous relief, and there were certainly no deaths directly due to starvation.

The number of villages in the famine affected area was 288, but the number of villages in the more restricted area which, as I have mentioned above, was in my opinion actually in the throes of famine was 157, and residents of some 120 of these were actually on relief works at one and the same time, whilst practically all the villages in this restricted area had representatives on the relief works at one time or another. Gratuitous relief was distributed altogether in 288 villages. The total number of units relieved was 1,821,421 and the greatest average number of people in receipt of relief of all kinds was 13,188 during the week ending the 19th May 1906, which works out to 4 per cent. of the total population of the affected area, and to 8 per cent. of the population of the badly affected area. The actual number of persons in need of relief was considerably greater than this, as a large number of persons, chiefly men, left the district and found employment elsewhere in irrigated tracts and on the Chenab and Jhelum canals. That this was so was proved by a careful enquiry which was made regarding the inhabitants of a number of villages in the vicinity of one of the relief works. The percentage of persons relieved by each method of relief was:—

|---|---|
| On work ... ... ... ... | 46 per cent. |
| Dependants ... ... ... ... | 17 " |
| Gratuitous relief ... ... ... ... | 37 " |

The cattle suffered severely, and more so think than in the famine of 1899-1900 when fodder was not so scarce. The rainfall from June 1899 to January 1900 was 11 inches, and there was a larger amount of failed crops available for fodder. From June 1905 to January 1906 the total rainfall was only 4 inches, and not even a blade of grass was to be seen outside the irrigated tracts. The rain in February and March 1906 was also insufficient to raise anything except an insignificant supply of grass, on account of the ground having become very hard and dry from the long drought, and many villages were practically denuded of cattle altogether. On account of the extraordinary high price of fodder, it was altogether impossible for a poor zamíndár to maintain any cattle, and the trees on roads and elsewhere were stripped of their leaves which were given to the cattle as food by persons who had succeeded in keeping any. The cattle which remained became very emaciated, and one often saw draught bullocks which had been left by their owners sitting by the road side unable to move a step further on account of weakness.

During some months of the year there was also a great dearth of water in the unirrigated tracts. The village tanks dried up in many villages and the water in the wells which generally depends on the tanks became brackish. Happily the good rainfall in February and March relieved anxiety on this account.

Taking it altogether, the famine was not nearly so widespread or acute (except perhaps in some villages in the centre of the district where there had been no crops for two years) as the famine of 1899-1900, and, in its extent and cost, much more nearly resembled the famine of 1896-97. It may be said to come between the two, for although prices ruled very much higher in 1896-97 owing no doubt to the Southern Punjab Railway not then having been opened, the number of persons relieved in the present famine was greater, in spite of the fact that more must have left the district owing to increased facilities of transit; the condition of the people at the commencement of the famine was worse owing to a larger number of bad years; the failure of the crops was much more pronounced; and finally there was also a very bad fodder famine. In the famine of 1899-1900 the area affected was 1,234 square miles with a population of 362,802; the total area of matured crops of the two preceding harvests was 488,221 acres; prices exceeded scarcity rates as early as September 1899, and test works started in September were converted into relief works in November, which lasted until the first week of September 1906; the total number of units relieved was 8,681,734; the maximum average number of persons in receipt of relief in any one week, 42,798, and the total cost of relief was Rs. 7,52,065. The only thing in which the present famine was worse than the 1899-1900 famine was in the dearth of fodder, owing to the far smaller rainfall, the lack of fodder in neighbouring districts, and the smaller area of failed crops which could be utilized for fodder—the actual area of matured crops in 1899-1900 was about the same as in the present famine, having been 197,917 acres compared with 226,772 in 1905-06. On the other hand, the area of crops in the two harvests immediately preceding the present famine was 932,742 acres, prices ruled very much lower than in 1899-1900, the zamíndárs obtained a very much better price for their cattle in September owing to good rain in the Hissar district and elsewhere, and the famine was not so widespread and did not extend beyond the limits of the district.

The points of resemblance between the present famine and the famine of 1896-97 are as below:—

| | Affected area. | Population. | Relief works commenced and ended. | Maximum number receiving relief. | Percentage of persons gratuitously relieved. | Total cost. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | | | | | | Rs. |
| 1896-97 ... | 1,000 | *300,000 | January 1896 ...August 1896 ... | 11,000 | 42 | 96,300 |
| 1905-06 ... | 930 | 320,100 | January 1906 ...August 1906 ... | 13,188 | 37 | 1,14,230 |

* This was probably an incorrect estimate.

That the present famine was more severe than the 1896-97 one is shown by the fact that half the number of persons on relief works were zamíndárs, whereas in 1896-97 more than three quarters of those on relief works are said to have been menials. In 1896-97 also the total area of matured crops was 548,493 acres, whereas in 1905-06 it was only 226,908 acres. It is said that in 1896-97 there were large stores of grain and fodder in most of the villages, and some of the latter were still to be seen when the famine of 1899-1900 started. The famine works executed in 1896-97 also only consisted of village tanks and roads. Had village works been resorted to in the present famine the number on works would have been far greater.

SUBJECT NO. IV.—The general narrative of the commencement, progress and close of the famine.

The failure of the rains in July, August and September gave rise to anxiety, which was increased when the winter rains also failed. Special reports which were being submitted by the Tahsíldárs did not show that any relief works were yet needed, but in January prices rose to scarcity rates: a district board work started on wages less than those allowed by Famine Code showed that a large number of people in the villages in the centre of the district were in need of relief, and I came to the conclusion that famine was imminent. The following test works were therefore started on the 22nd January 1906, the cost being defrayed by the district board:—

1. Raising Beri-Chúchakwás road.
2. Raising Sámpla-Dighal road.
3. Improving Kanhaur-Mehm road.
4. Improving Jhajjar-Kosli road.

During January 1906 the rainfall was as below:—

Rohtak ... ... ... ... ·08

Sámpla ... ... ... ... ·27

The weekly average of workers was—

| Week ending | Workers. |
|---|---|
| 27th January 1906 ... ... ... ... ... ... | 1,785 |

The expenditure was Rs. 622-13-6.

February 1906—The test works were continued up to 10th February 1906, when the district was declared to be in a state of famine by the Local Government.

The weekly average number of workers was as below:—

| Week ending | Workers. |
|---|---|
| 3rd February 1906 ... ... ... ... ... ... ... | 2,698 |
| 10th February 1906 ... ... ... ... ... ... ... | 3,437 |

The expenditure up to 10th February 1906 was Rs. 2,250-10-11, and the total expenditure on test works Rs. 2,873-8-5.

Under the orders of Government all these test works were converted into non-departmental famine relief works commencing from the 11th February 1906, and another work, that of raising the Beri-Dubaldhan road, was started on the 14th February 1906 in place of the Beri-Chúchakwás road which had been completed. Three Náib Tahsíldár candidates were deputed to the district, and were put in charge of three of the relief works; the fourth work was in charge of a permanent Náib Tahsíldár.

The weekly average of workers was—

| Week ending | Workers. |
|---|---|
| 17th February 1906 ... ... ... ... ... ... ... | 3,289 |
| 24th February 1906 ... ... ... ... ... ... ... | 3,826 |

On the 15th February 1·79 inch of rain fell at Rohtak, 1·46 at Sámpla and 1·44 at Jhajjar. This rain caused a slight fall in the price of gram and barley and also lowered to a small extent the prices of all food-grains in the succeeding months; it also largely improved the prospects of the rabi crop in the irrigated tracts, and gave water to the village tanks, many of which were dry, but as there were no crops sown at all in the greater part of the affected area and the area of irrigated crops was extremely small, the situation remained practically unchanged, although future prospects were much brighter.

The following non-departmental works were closed during the month:—

Raising the Beri-Chúchakwás road on 12th February 1906.

Improving Kanhaur-Mehm road, 28th February 1906.

Raising Sámpla-Dighal road, 28th February 1906.

The expenditure during this month was Rs. 3,033-15-4.

March 1906.—The rainfall was as detailed below :—

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Rohtak | ... | ... | ... | ... | ·96 |
| Sámpla | ... | ... | ... | ... | ·70 |
| Jhajjar | ... | ... | ... | ... | 2·64 |
| Salháwas | ... | ... | ... | ... | 2·35 |

This rain together with that of February was of great benefit to the small amount of irrigated crops ; it caused prices eventually to fall by assuring the rabi crops in other parts of the province, and undoubtedly relieved the situation by saving many people who would otherwise have needed relief later on ; it was insufficient after the long draught to raise anything except an insignificant supply of grass, but gave water to the village tanks and relieved anxiety on that score.

On the 1st of March 1906 two large tanks at Mandauthi and Mokhra and on the 19th March a third tank at Bakra were started under the supervision of the Public Works Department, the head-quarters of the Sub-Divisional Officer being established at Rohtak.

The staff of the district was also strengthened by the appointment of an additional Extra Assistant Commissioner from the 7th March 1906. Distribution of gratuitous relief was started in the three affected tahsils in the week ending 3rd March 1906.

The following non-departmental works were closed during this month :—

Beri-Dubaldhan road,

Jhajjar-Khosli road,

but another non-departmental work, viz., raising Jhajjar-Beri road, was started in place of the latter. The works in progress at the end of the month were thus three departmental and one non-departmental work.

The weekly averages were as follow :—

| Week ending | Workers. | Dependants. | Gratuitous relief. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 3rd March 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 4,410 | 248 | 3,334 |
| 10th March 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 5,472 | 1,143 | 3,348 |
| 17th March 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 5,521 | 1,763 | 3,306 |
| 24th March 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 6,101 | 2,350 | 3,680 |
| 31st March 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 6,238 | 2,539 | 3,968 |

The expenditure during the month was Rs. 18,970-14-1, and up to date Rs. 22,004-13-5.

April 1906.—The rainfall was—

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Sámpla | ... | ... | ... | ... | 0·01 |

A fourth departmental work of quarrying kankar for the Jhajjar-Bahádurgarh road was started under the Public Works Department from 23rd April 1906.

The weekly averages were as below :—

| Week ending | Workers | Dependants. | Gratuitous relief. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 7th April 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 5,502 | 2,281 | 4,217 |
| 14th April 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 4,263 | 2,005 | 4,239 |
| 21st April 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 3,941 | 1,871 | 4,394 |
| 28th April 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 4,046 | 1,927 | 4,493 |

The expenditure during the month was Rs. 27,048-14-9, and total up to date Rs. 49,053-12-2.

May 1906.—This month was practically rainless; only 0·06 fell at Jhajjar. The non-departmental work of raising the Jhajjar-Beri road was closed on 26th May 1906 and the Public Works tank at Mokhra on 19th May 1906.

The quarrying of kankar at Májra for the Bahádurgarh road was changed to the Jhajjar end.

A departmental work of quarrying kankar for the Mehm-Rohtak road was started under the Public Works Department on the 21st May 1906. The works in progress at the end of this month were thus four departmental works only.

The weekly averages were as follow :—

| Week ending | Workers. | Dependants. | Gratuitous relief. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 5th May 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 4,769 | 2,204 | 4,417 |
| 12th May 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 5,581 | 2,355 | 4,416 |
| 19th May 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 6,452 | 2,448 | 4,288 |
| 26th May 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 4,808 | 1,840 | 4,301 |

The decrease in workers and dependants during the week ending 26th May was due to the closing of the Mokhra tank work on the 19th May, the work of quarrying kankar for the Rohtak-Mehm road being started in its place on 21st May, and to the shifting of the work of quarrying kankar for Jhajjar-Bahádurgarh road from Májra to Bír Sunárwála near Jhajjar at the end of the week.

Private subscriptions amounting to Rs. 195 were collected at Rohtak during the week ending 19th May 1906 in order to distribute secret relief to a few lambardárs and respectable persons who were almost starving, but were unwilling to go into works or accept ordinary gratuitous relief.

The expenditure during the month was Rs. 19,031-5-9; and total up to date Rs. 68,085-1-11.

June 1906.—Rain fell as below :—

| Rohtak ... ... ... ... ... | 0·62 |
| Sámpla ... ... ... ... ... | 2·87 |
| Jhajjar ... ... ... ... ... | 2·21 |

The increase during the first four weeks was due to a large increase on the work of digging kankar at the Jhajjar end of the Jhajjar-Bahádurgarh road, which had only been started at the end of May. The decrease in the fifth week was due to the rainfall, which kept some people from attending the works for one or two days.

The expenditure during the month was Rs. 27,860-11-10, and total up to date Rs. 95,945-13-9.

July 1906.—The rainfall was as below :—

| Rohtak ... ... ... ... ... | 6·20 |
| Sámpla ... ... ... ... ... | 5·57 |
| Jhajjar ... ... ... ... ... | 7·98 |

| 28th July 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | 3,595 | 1,632 | 3,847 |

The decrease in the first two weeks, and especially in the second week, was due to good showers of rain and to the distribution of takávi. The zamíndárs receiving takávi left the works and began to plough and sow their fields. In the third week there was practically no rain and a strong westerly wind blew which threatened to dry up the moisture, more especially in the vicinity of the Bakra tank, workers on which again began to increase. In the vicinity of the Mehm-Rohtak road work also the rainfall had been slight and takávi was not distributed to those villages. In the fourth week, on the 28th, there was a good shower, which resulted in a small decrease in the number of workers. In consequence of the good rainfall and distribution of takávi the number of workers and dependants on the Jhajjar-Bahádurgarh departmental work decreased almost to nil, and I closed this work on the 10th July. The Bakra tank became flooded on the 27th July, and it was impossible to continue work there; takávi had been largely distributed to the zamíndárs, and indigent people were beginning to find employment by digging and selling grass. I closed the work therefore on the 30th July, any persons still in need of relief being put into the gratuitous relief lists. During this month Rs. 2,63,905 under the Agriculturists Loans Act were taken out from the treasury, and a large portion of it distributed to the zamíndárs. The balance remaining undisbursed was taken to next month's account.

The expenditure during the month was Rs. 13,989 and total up to date Rs. 1,09,934-13-9.

August 1906.—During this month the rainfall was—

| 11th August 1906 ... ... ... ... ... | ... | ... | 1,239 |

Owing to good rain, which had fallen throughout the district, agricultural conditions became very satisfactory, and consequently the remaining two relief works were closed. The Mandauthi tank had become flooded, and it was impossible to continue work there. Takávi had been liberally distributed, and I considered it unnecessary to continue the work any longer. It was accordingly closed on the 2nd August, valedictory doles sufficient for a fortnight's maintenance being given to some indigent persons who had no means The numbers on the Rohtak-Mehm road had also largely decreased, and, as takávi had been distributed, this work was also closed on the 4th August, valedictory doles being given to a few persons still unable to support themselves. The returns of workers and dependants for the week ending 4th August are somewhat deceptive, as no work was carried on at the Mandauthi tank, which is responsible for the high figures, during the last 2 or 3 days, and the people (almost all menials) merely presented themselves to receive subsistence allowance.

The gratuitous relief was also stopped, as reports were received from the Tahsildárs and zaildárs to the effect that poor people could now support themselves or their relations could support them by digging grass or weeding crops.

Valedictory doles sufficient to last a fortnight were distributed, and the lists were closed.

In this month Rs. 12,150 under the Agriculturists Loans Act were taken out from the treasury. This sum and the balance remaining from last month were distributed, except Rs. 13,520 which remained undisbursed and was consequently refunded to Government.

The expenditure during the month was Rs. 4,261-13-4 and total up to date Rs. 1,14,196-11-1.

In September 1906 Rs. 33-7-1 were paid on account of pay of clerk and office contingencies, and so the total expenditure of the famine was Rs. 1,14,230-2-2.

Statements Nos. 3 and 4 giving the above information in a tabulated form are attached

SUBJECT-NO. V.—Relief measures and administration; organization of the relief system; Public Works relief; non-departmental relief; charitable relief.

The following relief measures were adopted in this district :—

1. Relief works managed by Public Works Department.
2. Relief works, non-departmental, managed by civil officers.
3. Gratuitous village relief.
4. Charitable relief.

Each relief work under the Public Works Department was placed in charge of a Náib Tahsíldár, who was held responsible for the general conduct of the work, preservation of order and distribution of relief. He was assisted by Overseers of the Public Works Department, work agents, muharrirs and cashier.

One Hospital Assistant was appointed to each charge to afford medical aid to the sick, under the supervision of an Assistant Surgeon on famine duty and the Civil Surgeon. The administration of these departmental works was carried out on the lines laid down in the Famine Code, and a full description of it will be found in the report of Mr. Amesbury, Sub-Divisional Officer, Public Works Department.

Each non-departmental work was put in charge of a Náib Tahsíldár, who was assisted by a Sub-Overseer, muharrirs, cashier, &c., and the administration was conducted on the lines laid down in the Famine Code. The famine affected area was divided into two sub-divisions, one of which was put in charge of Lála Hari Chand, Extra Assistant Commissioner, who was later on succeeded by the Tahsíldár of Jhajjar, and the other in charge of Lála Sansár Chand, Revenue Assistant. For the purposes of returns only the Tahsíldár of Sámpla was appointed Assistant Sub-Divisional Officer for that tahsíl. These officers and the Deputy Commissioner supervised the work of the officers in charge from time to time, both on the non-departmental and departmental works. A Hospital Assistant was in medical charge of the Beri-Dubaldhan non-departmental work, and the Jhajjar non-departmental work was in medical charge of the Hospital Assistant at Jhajjar; the work of these medical subordinates was supervised by the Civil Surgeon and the Assistant Surgeon on famine duty.

As regards gratuitous relief, the famine affected area was divided into six circles, which were put in charge of the two Extra Assistant Commissioners, the Tahsíldárs of Sámpla and Jhajjar and the Náib Tahsíldárs of Rohtak and Jhajjar, who were appointed supervising officers for the purposes of section 153, Famine Code. These circles were further sub-divided into 37 smaller circles, each of which was put in charge of an Inspector, who was usually the zaildár, but in the case of the Rohtak and Jhajjar towns and one or two large villages other persons were appointed inspectors. A number of patwáris were kindly lent to me by the Settlement Officer, one of whom was deputed to each Circle Inspector for the purposes of keeping up returns and registers, and five kánúngos were also lent for famine duty to supervise the work of the Inspectors and patwáris in their circles. All sub-divisional and supervising officers were required to submit fortnightly diaries to the Deputy Commissioner of the work done by them during the fortnight.

Private charitable relief was not had recourse to except to a very small extent in order to relieve a few lambardárs and other respectable persons who were on the verge of starvation and were averse to receiving relief openly. Rupees 195 were collected for the purpose in Rohtak town and made over to Lála Hari Chand and Lála Sansár Chand, Extra Assistant Commissioners, for utilization during their tours. Only Rs. 60 out of this sum was, however, actually expended.

Rupees 80 were distributed to Sub-Inspectors of police stations in the affected area to relieve any starving wandering persons, but of this only Re. 0-11-9 were expended. The Circle Inspectors were also authorized to distribute similar relief to any starving persons until such time as their names could be brought on to the gratuitous relief lists and approved by the supervising officers.

No poor-houses or kitchen were opened.

SUBJECT NO. VI.—Statistics and cost of relief, and nature and utility of works constructed with famine labour.

Statements Nos. 5, 5A and 5B give the detailed weekly expenditure under each fund, and statement 5C the total expenditure separately under each fund, by financial years. Statement No. 6 shows the statistics, cost and nature of each relief work constructed with famine labour.

The non-departmental works consisted of raising katcha roads, all of which works were of utility to the district, although unsuited for famine labour on account of the constant changing from place to place, the difficulty of effective supervision and the low proportion of carriers to diggers which is required. The labourers on the Beri-Chúchakwas road were also employed for one or two days in digging a ditch and making an embankment round the Jaházgarh cattle fair enclosure, which was badly required.

The departmental works consisted of digging large tanks and quarrying and stacking kankar for the Jhajjar-Bahádurgarh and Rohtak-Mehm roads, which it has been decided to metal. The latter works were of course of utility. The tanks on which work was done were the Mandauthi, Bakra and Mokhra tanks. Very little was done to the latter, which was partly excavated in the 1899-1900 famine, beyond trimming the banks and digging trial pits to ascertain the exact nature of the sub-soil at various depths and places; the spot is not a good one for a tank and beyond the acquisition of information of the sub-soil, which may be of use in case a better tank has to be constructed at any future time, the work was of no utility. A large tank was constructed at Mandauthi, but the spot where it was first started had no clay strata at a convenient depth, and the large shallow tank first made is not of great utility, although it may be useful to the village when it has become hardened. Later on a smaller tank at the back of his tank was started in harder soil, which will be of utility to the village. The Bakra tank is an excellent work, which if it could be completed would be of great utility to the villages in the vicinity. The soil is hard clay and the tank can be dug to a great depth; it is situated in a spot on the large drainage channel passing down the middle of the district, which receives the drainage water from large areas in times of rainfall. Unfortunately owing to the hardness of the soil, it was impossible to dig this to a greater depth than 5½ feet.

SUBJECT NO. VII.—Indirect relief: the suspensions and remissions of land revenue and other dues; loans and advances.

The amount of suspended revenue outstanding at the close of the famine on 30th September 1906 was Rs. 9,47,700 as per statement No. 7. Of this, Rs. 3,05,780 as detailed below have since been remitted:—

| | | Rs. |
|---|---|---|
| Rabi 1902 | ... ... ... ... | 3,784 |
| Kharíf 1902 | ... ... ... ... | 1,12,929 |
| Rabi 1903 | ... ... ... ... | 1,30,688 |
| Kharíf 1903 | ... ... ... ... | 12,524 |
| Rabi 1904 | ... ... ... ... | 38,180 |
| Rabi 1905 | ... ... ... ... | 7,675 |
| | Total ... | 3,05,780 |

Statement No. 8 gives the demands for kharíf 1905 and rabi 1906 and the amount of revenue suspended from each in consequence of the famine. Practically the whole demand of kharíf was suspended in the Jhajjar tahsíl, and very nearly the whole demand of kharíf in the Rohtak tahsíl, where the canal crop, consisting almost entirely of cotton, failed badly owing to lack of rain and insufficient canal supply. In Sámpla the suspensions for kharíf amounted to two-thirds of the total demand and even in the Gohána tahsíl, where canal irrigation exists almost everywhere, one-third of the demand had to be suspended. In the case of the latter tahsíl the suspensions were chiefly necessitated by the partial failure of the cotton crop owing to lack of rain and insufficient canal supply. In rabi the irrigated canal and well crops were very good, but large suspensions were still required as there were no báráni crops at all.

Rupees 2,62,535 were advanced under the Agriculturists Loans Act during the famine period as below :—

| | Rs. |
|---|---|
| For the purchase of cattle ... ... ... | 84,347 |
| Do. hire of cattle ... ... ... | 84,294 |
| Do. purchase of seed ... ... ... | 93,894 |

Owing to the broken condition of the people Rs. 3,740-12-0 on account of the principle and Rs. 8-10-0 interest, have been recommended for remission.

Rupees 7,320 were also advanced in November 1905 to owners of well land for the purchase of seed, buckets and ropes for wells, and Rs. 8,744 were advanced to well owners of the Jhajjar and Sámpla tahsíls at the beginning of January 1906 for the purchase of fodder for well cattle.

SUBJECT NO. VIII.—Food stocks, trade and prices, and the effect of high prices on crime.

As already mentioned under head I, there was very little stock of grain in the district at the commencement of the famine and the total estimated yield of food-grains from the harvests during the actual period of the famine was only 12 lakhs of maunds, compared with an average of 37 lakhs of maunds. In order to make up the additional amount required, grain was imported in large quantities from Bhatinda and elsewhere. From August 1905 to July 1906 the excess of imports of grain over exports by rail amounted to no less than 14 lakhs of maunds, which is even greater than in 1899-1900 when the excess from August 1899 to July 1900 amounted to 12 lakhs of maunds. Most of this grain came to the Rohtak mandi where the trade was enormous and was transported from there to the villages by carts, but large quantities were also received at the Bahádurgarh and Sámpla railway stations. Some of the Jhajjar supplies were received from the Farrukhnagar railway station in the Gurgaon district, I believe, and some smaller amounts at the Kosli and Jharli stations, on the Ferozepore-Rewári railway, which passes through the south-western corner of the district. The large majority of supplies were however received viâ the Southern Punjab Railway. Statement No. 9 shows monthly imports and exports by rail from January 1904 to August 1906. As already mentioned under head II, price of wheat was 36% above the normal, bájra 37%, barley, jowár and gram 65%, 69% and 74%, respectively above their normal prices in September 1905, and these prices rose still higher until scarcity rate was reached by gram, wheat and barley were only 1 seer to the rupee below scarcity rates and jowár and bájra were 1 seer to the rupee above scarcity rates in January 1906 at the head-quarters of the district; whilst in outlying villages prices were still higher owing to cost of transport by road. The good rain received in February and March caused prices to fall, except in the case of jowár and bájra, which never fell below scarcity rates up to August 1906; but wheat averaged 13 seers to the rupee (warning rate), barley 1½ seers above warning rate and gram 2½ seers above warning rate for the 7 months, January to August 1906. Statement No. 10 shows the prices prevailing at head-quarters from August 1905 to August 1906, compared with those of the previous year.

Theft, burglary and robbery cases increased on account of the scarcity and famine. From the 1st September 1905 to 31st December 1905 there were increases as follows, compared with the previous year :—

| | Theft other than cattle. | Receiving stolen property. | Burglaries. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Increase in number ... ... ... ... | 55 | 10 | 46 |
| Percentage of increase ... ... ... | 240% | 100% | 115% |

From the 11th February 1906 to 11th August 1906 the increases were as follows, compared with the similar period of the previous year :—

| | Theft other than cattle. | Receiving stolen property. | Burglaries. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Increase in number ... ... ... ... | 81 | 16 | 44 |
| Percentage of increase ... ... ... ... | 156% | Not known. | 40% |

In more than 50°/₀ of the total number of theft cases reported the property stolen consisted of food either for man or beast.

There were also 11 cases of robbery between the 11th February and 11th August 1906, whilst in the whole of the previous year there were not more than 2 or 3 such cases ; the greatest number of robberies took place in May, when there were 3, but 2 occurred in April, 2 in June and 2 in July.

SUBJECT NO. IX.—Public health and the mortality of the famine period.

The health of the district was good except in May and June 1906, when the excess of mortality under head of fever is attributed by the Civil Surgeon chiefly to plague cases. Statement No. 11 contains details of the mortality during the months March to August 1906.

The health of the Public Works Department famine camps was excellent as statement No. 11-A shows. There was no outbreak of epidemic disease in any of the camps, although plague prevailed in the district up to June 1905. No deaths occurred in camps and none in the district reported to be due directly or indirectly to starvation. The prevailing disease among the famine labourers was conjunctivitis, due to the nature of their employment.

SUBJECT NO. X.—Immigration and emigration.

There was practically no immigration of Bikáneries or wanderers from Rájpútána. In September large numbers of Bikáneries passed through the district on their way to Delhi and other places, but none remained in this district. There were a few persons from Rájpútána on the Mandauthi tank and some 20 or 30 persons from a village in the Delhi district, situated more than 20 miles away.

A large number of people emigrated to the Punjab for employment on canals which were being dug, and where the wages were good. A number of menials such as Dhanaks and sweepers left the district to work in Delhi.

SUBJECT NO. XI.—Water and fodder supply and the preservation of cattle.

There was a great dearth of water in the villages away from the canal-irrigated tracts until the rain of February and March was received, and many of the village tanks dried up altogether. Most of the drinking wells are situated at the side of tanks, almost invariably in the Rohtak tahsíl, and the water in many of these became brackish when the tanks dried up. There were a few villages in which the water-supply failed altogether and these had to fetch their water from wells in adjoining villages.

Owing to the failure of the kharíf, in which alone fodder crops are grown, and to the absence of grass and wild fodder, fodder became extremely scarce and dear, and there was a more severe fodder famine than in 1899-1900, when a far larger supply of rain was received and there was a much larger area of failed crops available for fodder. In 1905 only a very small area of crops was sown for kharíf, and those on báráni lands withered up altogether. In a few villages in the báráni tracts there were old stocks of fodder, chiefly those of the year 1900-01, but many of these belonged to banias, to whom they had been previously sold by the zamíndárs, and they were soon exhausted. Large supplies of fodder were received from the Hissar district and from Bhatinda by rail, and large quantities of bhúsa were also imported from Bhatinda and other stations on the Southern Punjab Railway in the direction of Ferozepore ; and the North-Western Railway reduced freight charges on fodder brought by rail. Even so, however, bájra and jowár stalks were selling at five to ten times their normal price, as much as Rs. 10 and Rs. 11 being paid for 100 bundles of the latter. The leaves of trees were everywhere utilized and the zamíndárs were allowed to take free the leaves and twigs of trees in the Government bírs ; all trees suitable for fodder were stripped bare of their leaves. Very large numbers of cattle were sold. At the Jahazágarh fair in September 1905, 29,000 more cattle were offered for sale than at the similar fair in the previous year (altogether 78,891 were offered for sale at the 1905 fair) and 16,000 more cattle were sold. Large numbers of cattle were also sold at other fairs which took place in the vicinity of the Hissar and other districts and in Jind territory about the same time. Considerable numbers of cattle were also taken out of the district into Hissar and elsewhere for grazing purposes. Altogether at the Jaházgarh fairs of September 1905 and March 1906, 52,357 head of cattle were sold. Fortunately the good rain which fell in the surrounding districts in September, February and March enabled the zamíndárs to obtain very fair prices for their animals. In some villages not a single bullock, buffalo or cow was to be seen.

There are unfortunately no large areas of waste lands belonging to Government in this district which could have been utilized as fodder reserves. There is a bír at Chúchakwás belonging to Government which is maintained for grazing purposes, but its area is only 3,296 acres and canal-irrigation does not extend to it. There is also a smaller bír near Jhajjar, but this also not receive canal-irrigation. The canal supply of the district is very small and all available water was required for the crops, apart from the fact that the tails of the canal distributaries are 8 miles and more distant from these two bírs.

In January 1906 some Rs. 8,744 takávi was distributed to owners of well cattle for the purchase of fodder which enabled them to last out until the well crops were ripe.

SUBJECT NO. XII.—Influence of the railways and irrigation works in the mitigation of distress.

As will have been seen from the remarks under previous heads, railways played a most important part in the mitigation of distress. It is difficult to say whether there would have been a larger stock of food grains in the district had the railways not existed, to facilitate trade with outside places before the famine commenced, but in view of the enormous imports of grain, which mostly came from Bhatinda, a place far distant by road, there can be no doubt that the distress amongst the people would have been acute had it been necessary to import grain by road, for the surrounding districts of Delhi, Hissar, Karnál and Gurgáon also generally suffered from lack of rain up to the harvesting of the rabi crops at any rate, and apparently had little grain to export into this district. Prices could not have risen so high as they were in the beginning of 1897 when wheat and other food-grains were selling $8\frac{1}{4}$ and 9 seers to the rupee, because famine practically did not exist in other parts of the Punjab and was not so widespread or severe in other parts of India, but they would undoubtedly have been much higher than was the case under existing conditions. The cattle would also have suffered very much more severely, and there would I think have been great loss amongst them from starvation. It is true that a great deal of fodder was imported from the Hissar district, where there seems to have been a large supply from previous harvests, but large amounts of fodder were also imported from Bhatinda by rail and in the later months old bhúsa was imported from the Punjab, i.e., Bhatinda direction, and made use of to a considerable extent. Had the railways not existed it would have been difficult, if not impossible, to have obtained the large amounts of grain and fodder which the district required to supplement its own stocks, and the price of transport would have been very high. Possibly there would have been larger reserve stocks of grain in the villages if there had been no railways, but the experience of 1896-97 (the Southern Punjab Railway was opened in November 1897 after that famine) shows that prices would have been far higher than they were, and that the stocks would have been insufficient. In the 1896-97 famine prices were higher even than in 1899-1900, although the latter famine was far more severe. This was due to the existence of the Southern Punjab Railway during the 1899-1900 famine. It was estimated at the time of the famine of 1878-79 that the total consumption of food-grains of the district in one year would be about 36 lakhs of maunds. If this is an accurate estimate, some 24 lakhs of maunds were required to supplement the supply of food-grains in the district from August 1905 to August 1906; as stated under previous heads, some 14 lakhs of maunds were actually imported by rail alone during this period.

Irrigation works of course also played an important part in the mitigation of distress, but the canal crops grown in the kharíf 1905 were unfortunately almost all cotton, which failed badly on account of the exceptionally dry season. The lack of rain and the insufficient canal supply caused the cotton to wither and constituted conditions favourable to the ravages of insects. In spite of an unprecedented large area of cotton actually sown, the estimated total yield was only half that of an average kharíf harvest. Fortunately in rabi the canal supply was better and the good rain of February and March enormously benefited the crop. Both canal and well-irrigated crops, what there was of them, were excellent, and a number of villages in the north of Rohtak tahsíl and in the Sámpla tahsíl, irrigated by canals, and large number of villages in the Jhajjar tahsíl, where wells are very numerous, were saved to a considerable extent. Practically the only crops during the year were 72,000 of canal-irrigated crops in kharíf and 115,597 acres of canal-irrigated and well crops in the rabi.

SUBJECT NO. XIII.—General remarks on the working of the Famine Code; the measure of success attained; the attitude of the people; the future outlook.

The provisions of the Famine Code were followed throughout the famine and everything worked smoothly and well, when once a start had been made. There are only one or two points which I need mention in this report. The first of these is the system of hutting. Owing to the impossiblity of obtaining any hutting material in the district, the materials for huts on departmental works had to be obtained from elsewhere and the form of hut provided was a bamboo triangular frame covered with a single layer of gunny bag material with an extra layer of sirki over the top. These were cheap, but were not strong enough to stand the high winds which prevail in this district and were insufficient to keep off the wind, heat or rain. Later on an extra cover of sacking was provided, and although this was a considerable improvement the huts were not even then all that could be desired. Some stronger form of hut providing better shelter is required. During the heat the people had to do most of their work in the very early hours of the morning and even during the night, and good and sufficient shelter is a necessity, more especially during the rains. Had better means of shelter been provided the number of persons being in the camps would I think have been larger, which is very desirable, as work can then be more promptly and efficiently performed.

Another point is the arrangements in connection with the supply of drinking water. A sufficient stock of good zinc and iron drums for carrying water should be maintained ready for use when famine occurs. In the present famine the stock of these was quite insufficient at first, and on one or two of the departmental works kerosine oil tins and earthen-ware gharras had to be requisitioned at the start and used for carrying water from the wells to the reservoir, and for storing water.

Village works proper, such as village tanks, were not resorted to at all, although the people were asking for them long before test works were started, but were unwilling to leave their villages to work at other places. Had such works been undertaken they would have been very numerous, it would have been difficult to supervise them, and almost impossible to keep off all but indigent people. People were more willing than in the 1899-1900 famine to work on central tanks in other villages, although in some cases they would not do so for special reasons. Shortly before the closing of the large works, the tasks were raised by my direction in order to drive the people off, but this step did not seem to have much effect. As in 1899-1900 the zamíndárs preferred to work on tanks to digging on roads, which more nearly resembled coolie's work.

The attitude of the people was generally good throughout and they appeared to be very grateful for the assistance afforded to them. There was only one unfortunate incident, when the workers on the Mandauthi tank struck work owing to instigation by some persons in the neighbourhood, under the false idea that they would get a rise in wages if they did so. This was due to the fact that the masons and water-carriers employed on that work at fixed wages had obtained a rise in their pay previously by going on strike. The people only stayed away a day or so however, and were glad to get back to the work; only a portion of the total number really went "on strike" and these tried to prevent the rest from returning to the work.

The distribution of some 2½ lakhs of takavi to the villages in the affected area was a real boon to the people and one for which they were most grateful. Without this, they would in numerous villages have been quite unable to sow their lands at all for the kharíf. The work of making the lists for this distribution of takavi in May and June, and the distribution itself, was a difficult and laborious one and I am much indebted to the Revenue Assistant, Tahsíldárs, and Náib Tahsíldárs for the very efficient manner in which it was carried out. The work of checking the preliminary lists was rendered difficult however, by the fact that the patwárís were not under my orders, being chiefly engaged in Settlement work, and were not responsible to the district staff. The Settlement Officer very kindly gave me every assistance, but it was natural under the circumstances that in many case the lists should not have been very carefully prepared.

The kharíf harvest of 190 has generally been good, except in a small part of the district—chiefly to the west of the Rohtak and Jhajjar tahsíls—and fodder is everywhere abundant. No suspensions of land revenue were needed in that harvest and all anxiety on the score of famine is now removed. Of the Rs. 9,47,700 land revenue outstanding, Rs. 3,05,780 have been remitted and Rs. 1,26,350 were collected with the kharíf instalment, leaving Rs. 5,15,370 in arrears.

Rupees 35,671 takavi, under Act XIX of 1883, and Rs. 2,68,852, under Act XII of 1884, were outstanding on the 30th September 1906. Of the former some Rs. 4,231 and of the latter some Rs. 1,38,000 has been or is being collected this (kharíf) harvest. The prospects of the rabi harvest in two tahsíls are very good and the third tahsíl (Gohána) is secure against famine on account of canal irrigation. The prospects of Rohtak tahsíl alone for rabi 1907 are not good, as no good rainfall has yet been received but it is hoped that there will be rain before long, in which case the crops, of which a very large area has been sown, will largely revive. In any case the people have now a very large supply of fodder, the stock of cattle has increased, and the kharíf harvest has improved their condition enormously.

JUDICIAL.

[Second publication.]

The 18th May 1907.

No. 487.—Notification.—The following revised rules framed under the provisions of section 14 (1), clause (a), of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, to regulate the preparation of a printed record in first appeals admitted to a Single or Division Bench of the Chief Court where the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit exceeds five thousand rupees or the appeal is from a decree of a Divisional Judge in an original suit, have been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor and are published for general information in supersession of the rules published in Chief Court notification No. 3349 G., dated 29th August 1893:—

RULES.

I.—In first appeals from orders no printing will be required unless specially directed by the Admitting Judge, who will in that case order at his discretion the printing of either (1) an ordinary paper book or (2) a printed record under these rules.

II.—In first appeals from decrees admitted to a hearing, a printed record shall, unless special orders are given to the contrary, be prepared in accordance with the instructions hereinafter contained.

III.—In the absence of a special order under rule II the printed record shall consist of—

(1) The plaint, pleas and any documents referred to in the plaint as forming the basis of the suit or considered by the Lower Court in its judgment, translated into English if in Vernacular;

(2) The autograph English record of the First Court as it stands (omitting papers which have to be printed under clause (1)). The autograph record will be translated if in Vernacular;

(3) The report of the local Commissioner, if any, whether appointed under section 392, section 394, or section 396 of the Civil Procedure Code, translated if in Vernacular. With the report should be printed any statements of the parties recorded before the Commissioner and tabular statements prepared by him, if they form an integral portion of his report;

(4) Evidence taken on commission under chapter XXV of the Civil Procedure Code, translated if in Vernacular;

(5) The grounds of appeal to the Chief Court in English;

(6) The order of the Judge in Chambers admitting the appeal.

IV.—Any part of the record not printed under rule III may be referred to at the hearing with permission of the Court.

V.—Before the record is finally arranged and transcribed, the appellant and respondent shall be informed of the documents that will be included in the printed record, and if they desire the inclusion of any other documents, these may be added at the expense of the party who desires such addition made, provided that he intimates his wishes within one month of the date on which he is informed under this rule, and pays within ten days any printing fee demanded from him, failing which the additional documents will not be printed.

VI.—All documents included in the printed record shall be printed according to their serial order, first those produced by the plaintiff and then those produced by the defendant. On each document shall be endorsed the order and date on which it was admitted by the Lower Court.

VII.—Vernacular documents printed by desire of parties under rule V shall ordinarily be transliterated and not translated, unless especially desired by the party at whose instance they are included in the printed record.

VIII.—(a) In every appeal in which under these rules a record has to be printed the appellant shall with his appeal deposit one hundred rupees as an advance to cover the cost of printing the record. Until this deposit is made the appeal shall not be set down for a preliminary hearing, and no ad interim order for stay of execution or other relief shall be passed.

(b) When after deposit an ad interim order has been passed it shall be discharged less the further deposit, if any, required by rule IX is made within the period specified.

IX.—If the deposit required under rule VIII prove insufficient to cover the cost of the printed record, the Deputy Registrar may, by a notice in writing, require that such further deposit as seems to him necessary shall be made within a time to be specified in such notice.

Note.—If the total sum required as deposits under rules VIII and IX exceeds Rs. 200, the matter will be reported for the orders of a Judge.

X.—If the appellant fails to make the deposit required by rule VIII, or to make, within the time allowed, the supplementary deposit required by rule IX, the case will be consigned to the record-room or otherwise disposed of as the Court may direct, and the appellant will be informed accordingly. Should the appellant thereafter apply (on proper stamp) to have the appeal brought out of the record-room and to deposit the printing fee, the Deputy Registrar may send for the case from the record-room, and if the explanation of delay appears to be satisfactory and does not exceed one month, receive the printing fee and issue notice. If the delay be more than one month or the explanation appears unsatisfactory, the Deputy Registrar shall take the orders of a Judge whether the appeal should be restored to the pending file.

XI.—The period fixed by rule IX for the payment of the deposit may, on cause being shown in an application duly stamped, be enlarged by an order of the Court which may further in its discretion permit the fee to be paid by instalments.

XII.—Such number of copies of the record shall be printed as the Court may, by general rule in this behalf, or by special order in any particular case, direct.

Note.—The number of copies ordinarily to be printed has, for the present, been fixed at thirteen.

XIII.—The appellant and respondent may each obtain two copies of the printed record free of charge and one additional copy free of charge for each pleader or advocate employed in excess of two. Additional copies, if available, may be purchased at two annas per page of printed matter.

XIV.—Parties and counsel shall be entitled to receive copies of the printed record on application to the Deputy Registrar at least one month before the date fixed for hearing.

XV.—(a) At the foot of every printed record, in respect of which a fee has been levied, shall be noted the amount of the printing and incidental charges, and the party from whom levied, and such amount shall be included in the costs of the appeal, unless the Court shall in any case otherwise direct.

(b) Should the amount so charged be less than the sum or sums deposited under rules VIII and IX, the Deputy Registrar shall refund the unexpended balance to the party by whom the deposit was made. Should it be more, he will take action under rules IX and X.

XVI.—The Deputy Registrar may, in his discretion, and if so required by either party by petition duly stamped, shall refer to the Court any matter not herein expressly required to be referred.

XVII.—For all purposes of these rules, when an order of the Court is required, the order of one Judge shall be sufficient, and such order shall, subject to reconsideration by a Division Bench at the hearing of the appeal, be conclusive.

XVIII.—(a) When an order has been made by a Bench under section 566 or section 568 of the Code of Civil Procedure, in an appeal to which these rules have been applied, and additional evidence has been taken in pursuance of such order, a Judge may, at any time after completion of the record of the enquiry, make an order that a supplementary printed record be prepared of (1) the order made under section 566 or section 568, Civil Procedure Code, and (2) the proceedings taken thereunder or any part thereof;

(b) The order shall direct by which party or parties the expense of preparing the supplementary record or of any part thereof, shall be borne in the first instance;

(c) When a Judge's order for the preparation of a supplementary record has been made, the Deputy Registrar shall deal with the matter under the foregoing rules so far as applicable.

5. The pass shall specify the kind and quantity of such timber or charcoal, the mark or marks it bears (if any), the owner or person in charge of it, the place in which it was cut or prepared, and shall authorize import into Murree or Ráwalpindi and may name the depôt to which such timber or charcoal shall be taken for examination. 6. The Forest Officer may refuse to issue a pass if he has reason to believe that the timber or charcoal has not been legally acquired by the applicant or has been acquired for his own ordinary domestic or agricultural purposes, and not for sale or any other purpose.

In the case of timber or charcoal obtained from the Hazára district the Forest Officer may before issuing a pass require the production of a pass given by the Divisional Forest Officer of that district and evidence that the timber or charcoal is covered by such pass.

9. Any person in charge of timber or charcoal shall produce his pass for the inspection of the Forest Officer in charge of the depôt.

If the Forest Officer in charge of the depôt finds that such timber or charcoal is being imported in accordance with the pass, he shall allow it to be imported and to proceed past the depôt.

If the whole quantity named on the pass reaches the depôt in one consignment only, the Forest Officer in charge of the depôt shall retain the pass and cancel it, returning the attached coupon duly filled in to the person in charge.

If the whole quantity of timber or charcoal named on the pass does not reach the depôt in one consignment only, the Forest Officer in charge of the depôt shall on the arrival of each consignment, other than the last, note on the back of the pass the quantity imported, returning the pass to be presented again by the person in charge of the following consignment or consignments. On the arrival of the final consignment the Forest Officer in charge of the depôt will retain the pass and cancel it, returning the attached coupon duly filled in to the person in charge.

Notes of quantities entered on the back of the passes and of cancellation shall be signed and dated by the Forest Officer in charge of the depôt.

If the Forest Officer in charge of the depôt finds that the timber or charcoal is not being imported in accordance with these rules or in accordance with the pass, he shall forbid such import and may seize such timber or charcoal and shall at once report the matter to his superior officers for orders.

10. Any Forest Officer or Police Officer may stop and examine any timber or other forest produce in transit in respect of which there is reason to believe that any money is payable to Government on account of the price thereof or on account of any duty, fee, royalty or charge due thereon or to which it is desirable for the purposes of the Indian Forest Act (VII of 1878) to affix a mark, and may compare it with the pass, if any, which accompanies it. All persons engaged in the transport of any timber or orther forest produce shall give facilities for such examination, and shall produce such pass, if any, when called on to do so by any such officer.

11. The Deputy Commissioner of Ráwalpindi or the Divisional Forest Officer may exempt timber of any specified class, or timber or charcoal from any specified place, from the operation of any of these rules, and may withdraw such exemption.

NOS. 1269-1279.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

PUBLIC.

Simla, the 3rd June 1907.

RESOLUTION.

CERTAIN circumstances attending the recent outbreaks of lawlessness in the Punjab and Eastern Bengal have forced upon the attention of the Government of India the deliberate efforts made by a number of newspapers, both English and Vernacular, to inflame the minds of the people, to encourage ill-will between classes, to promote active hostility to the Government, and to disturb the public tranquillity in many different ways. The Governor-General in Council has no desire whatever to restrict the legitimate liberty of the Press to criticise the action of the Government, and he would be most reluctant to curtail the freedom of the many well conducted papers because of the misbehaviour of a few disloyal journals. But he is responsible for the maintenance of law and order among a vast and heterogeneous population, and he is unable to tolerate the publication of writings which tend to arouse the disorderly elements of society and to incite them to concerted action against the Government. On these grounds he has determined that the dissemination of sedition, and the promotion of ill-will between classes must be repressed by firm and sustained action under the penal law. Accordingly, in supersession of previous orders on the subject, His Excellency in Council empowers Local Governments to institute prosecutions in consultation with their legal advisers in all cases where the law has been wilfully infringed. He hopes that the warning now given may, in great measure, avert the necessity for numerous prosecutions, but if this hope should unhappily not be realised, he relies upon the local authorities to deal with the evil effectively.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be communicated to all Local Governments and Administrations for information and guidance.

Ordered also that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India for general information.

H. H. RISLEY,
Secretary to the Government of India.

JUDICIAL.

[Third publication.]

The 18*th May* 1907

No. 487.—Notification.—The following revised rules framed under the provisions of section 14 (1), clause (a), of the Punjab Courts Act, 1884, to regulate the preparation of a printed record in first appeals admitted to a Single or Division Bench of the Chief Court where the amount or value of the subject-matter of the suit exceeds five thousand rupees or the appeal is from a decree of a Divisional Judge in an original suit, have been sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor and are published for general information in supersession of the rules published in Chief Court notification No. 3349 G., dated 29th August 1893:—

RULES

I.—In first appeals from orders no printing will be required unless specially directed by the Admitting Judge, who will in that case order at his discretion the printing of either (1) an ordinary paper book or (2) a printed record under these rules.

II.—In first appeals from decrees admitted to a hearing, a printed record shall, unless special orders are given to the contrary, be prepared in accordance with the instructions hereinafter contained.

III.—In the absence of a special order under rule II the printed record shall consist of—

(1) The plaint, pleas and any documents referred to in the plaint as forming the basis of the suit or considered by the Lower Court in its judgment, translated into English if in Vernacular ;

(2) The autograph English record of the First Court as it stands (omitting papers which have to be printed under clause (1)). The autograph record will be translated if in Vernacular ;

(3) The report of the local Commissioner, if any, whether appointed under section 392, section 394, or section 396 of the Civil Procedure Code, translated if in Vernacular. With the report should be printed any statements of the parties recorded before the Commissioner and tabular statements prepared by him, if they form an integral portion of his report ;

(4) Evidence taken on commission under chapter XXV of the Civil Procedure Code, translated if in Vernacular ;

(5) The grounds of appeal to the Chief Court in English ;

(6) The order of the Judge in Chambers admitting the appeal.

IV.—Any part of the record not printed under rule III may be referred to at the hearing with permission of the Court.

V.—Before the record is finally arranged and transcribed, the appellant and respondent shall be informed of the documents that will be included in the printed record, and if they desire the inclusion of any other documents, these may be added at the expense of the party who desires such addition made, provided that he intimates his wishes within one month of the date on which he is informed under this rule, and pays within ten days any printing fee demanded from him, failing which the additional documents will not be printed.

VI.—All documents included in the printed record shall be printed according to their serial order, first those produced by the plaintiff and then those produced by the defendant. On each document shall be endorsed the order and date on which it was admitted by the Lower Court.

VII.—Vernacular documents printed by desire of parties under rule V shall ordinarily be transliterated and not translated, unless especially desired by the party at whose instance they are included in the printed record.

VIII.—(a) In every appeal in which under these rules a record has to be printed the appellant shall with his appeal deposit one hundred rupees as an advance to cover the cost of printing the record. Until this deposit is made the appeal shall not be set down for a preliminary hearing, and no ad interim order for stay of execution or other relief shall be passed.

(b) When after deposit an ad interim order has been passed it shall be discharged unless the further deposit, if any, required by rule IX is made within the period specified.

IX.—If the deposit required under rule VIII prove insufficient to cover the cost of the printed record, the Deputy Registrar may, by a notice in writing, require that such further deposit as seems to him necessary shall be made within a time to be specified in such notice.

Note.—If the total sum required as deposits under rules VIII and IX exceeds Rs. 200, the matter will be reported for the orders of a Judge.

X.—If the appellant fails to make the deposit required by rule VIII, or to make, within the time allowed, the supplementary deposit required by rule IX, the case will be consigned to the record-room or otherwise disposed of as the Court may direct, and the appellant will be informed accordingly. Should the appellant thereafter apply (on proper stamp) to have the appeal brought out of the record-room and to deposit the printing fee, the Deputy Registrar may send for the case from the record-room, and if the explanation of delay appears to be satisfactory and does not exceed one month, receive the printing fee and issue notice. If the delay be more than one month or the explanation appears unsatisfactory, the Deputy Registrar shall take the orders of a Judge whether the appeal should be restored to the pending file.

XI.—The period fixed by rule IX for the payment of the deposit may, on cause being shown in an application duly stamped, be enlarged by an order of the Court, which may further in its discretion permit the fee to be paid by instalments.

XII.—Such number of copies of the record shall be printed as the Court may, by general rule in this behalf, or by special order in any particular case, direct.

Note.—The number of copies ordinarily to be printed has, for the present, been fixed at thirteen.

XIII.—The appellant and respondent may each obtain two copies of the printed record free of charge and one additional copy free of charge for each pleader or advocate employed in excess of two. Additional copies, if available, may be purchased at two annas per page of printed matter.

XIV.—Parties and counsel shall be entitled to receive copies of the printed record on application to the Deputy Registrar at least one month before the date fixed for hearing.

XV.—(a) At the foot of every printed record, in respect of which a fee has been levied, shall be noted the amount of the printing and incidental charges, and the party from whom levied, and such amount shall be included in the costs of the appeal, unless the Court shall in any case otherwise direct.

(b) Should the amount so charged be less than the sum or sums deposited under rules VIII and IX, the Deputy Registrar shall refund the unexpended balance to the party by whom the deposit was made. Should it be more, he will take action under rules IX and X.

XVI.—The Deputy Registrar may, in his discretion, and if so required by either party by petition duly stamped, shall refer to the Court any matter not herein expressly required to be referred.

XVII.—For all purposes of these rules, when an order of the Court is required, the order of one Judge shall be sufficient, and such order shall, subject to reconsideration by a Division Bench at the hearing of the appeal, be conclusive.

XVIII.—(a) When an order has been made by a Bench under section 566 or section 568 of the Code of Civil Procedure, in an appeal to which these rules have been applied, and additional evidence has been taken in pursuance of such order, a Judge may, at any time after completion of the record of the enquiry, make an order that a supplementary printed record be prepared of (1) the order made under section 566 or section 568, Civil Procedure Code, and (2) the proceedings taken thereunder or any part thereof;

(b) The order shall direct by which party or parties the expense of preparing the supplementary record or of any part thereof shall be borne in the first instance;

(c) When a Judge's order for the preparation of a supplementary record has been made, the Deputy Registrar shall deal with the matter under the foregoing rules so far as applicable.

By order of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor,

E. H. PARGITER,

Secretary to Government, Punjab.

RULES ISSUED UNDER ACT VIII OF 1873.

PART III.

On Construction and Maintenance of Works.

1. Orders for construction of works.— Section 18. The order which a Divisional Canal Officer may issue under section 18 shall be in writing, and shall be served on the persons concerned or their representatives in the manner prescribed in rule 79-A.

2. Proceedings of Superintending Canal Officers on reference.—Section 20. The Superintending Canal Officer, before confirming or modifying a decision passed by the Divisional Canal Officer under section 20, shall hear and record any objections made to such decision by the parties interested or their representatives, to whom at least fifteen days' notice of the date and of the place at which the Superintending Canal Officer will consider the Divisional Canal Officer's decision, shall be given.

3. Proceedings of Deputy Commissioner.—Section 24. The notice which the Deputy Commissioner is bound to give to the Canal Officer under section 24 shall not be less than fourteen days.

4. Opening of new water-courses.—Section 29. Water shall not be admitted into any new water-course until all works necessary for the passage across such water-course, of water-courses, or well aqueducts (chhandas) existing previous to its construction, and of the drainage intercepted by it, and for affording proper communications across it, for the convenience of the neighbouring lands, are completed to the satisfaction of the Divisional Canal Officer.

5. Applications for water.—All applications for water or for the construction or improvement of water-courses under Part III of the Act shall be in the form prescribed in Appendix No. I.

PART IV.

On the Supply of Water.

6. Limit of length of water-courses.—Section 31. Water shall not ordinarily be granted to lands not irrigated prior to the issue of these rules where the length of the water-course from its head to its point of contact with the fields exceeds two miles.

7. Apprehended wastage.—Section 16. Applications under section 16 shall not be granted where, in the opinion of the Divisional Canal Officer, loss from wastage is likely to occur. Nor shall they ordinarily be granted in respect of lands where the available supply of water in the canal, distributary or water-course is already fully utilized. From the decison of the Divisional Canal Officer an appeal may be preferred to the Superintending Canal Officer.

8. Sanitary reasons.—Section 31. The Divisional Canal Officer shall not engage to grant water for the irrigation of any Kharif crops upon lands within one mile from the outermost houses of any town if such irrigation be objected to by the Municipal Committee (or, if there be no Municipal Committee, by the Deputy Commissioner), and the objection is approved by the Superintending Canal Officer and the Commissioner of the Division. Should these officers differ in opinion, the question will be referred to Government in the Irrigation Department, whose decision shall be final.

8-A. * * *

8-B. Condition on which water is supplied.—Every supply of water shall be deemed to be given subject to the condition that the water shall not be used for the cultivation of any particular kind of crop in any particular locality in which the use of canal water for that kind of crop has been prohibited by the Local Government on sanitary grounds by a notification in the official Gazette. When, however, the right to impose this prohibition is exercised in regard to existing cultivation, the occupiers shall be entitled to such compensation, if any, as the Local Government may think just.

9. Preparation of fields.—A Divisional Canal Officer may withhold or postpone the issue of water to any cultivator whose fields he may have ascertained by personal inspection (by himself, one of his Assistants, or the Canal Deputy Collector) to be unprepared for irrigation by division into kiaris or compartments, not greater in area than half an acre, and by the addition of small water channels, as is customary in irrigation from wells.

Section 31.

(a) When a field is irrigated which has not been so prepared, an additional charge may be imposed not exceeding half the amount of occupiers' rate leviable upon the field.

(b) Rice fields and gardens are exempted from the operation of this rule.

(c) In each case the Divisional Canal Officer, the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, or Canal Deputy Collector must certify that he personally examined the field, and that it was not properly prepared for irrigation according to the terms of the rule.

(d) An appeal against the orders of the Divisional Canal Officer may be preferred to the Superintending Canal Officer.

10. Filling of tanks for watering cattle.—Tanks may, subject to the following provisions, be filled with canal water without charge and without reference to the area irrigated in any village, whenever water can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on any canal :—

Section 31.

I.—Except as provided in rules 12 and 12-A no tank shall be so filled unless exclusively used for domestic purposes, for watering cattle, or for the manufacture of bricks not subsequently burnt in a kiln, or for pisé wall building.

II.—The Lambardárs of a village, in which there are one or more tanks for which a supply of canal water is desired, shall submit an application to that effect to the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, in which the number, names and approximate general dimensions of the tanks for which water is desired shall be stated. The Sub-Divisional Canal Officer on receipt of the application and after any further enquiries that he may deem necessary, shall pass an order stating the number and names of the tanks to which canal water may be supplied, whenever it can be made available without injury to the cultivation dependent on the canal, and subject to the following provisions. A written license in the terms of this order shall be given to the applicant, and shall remain in force until revoked by a written order of the Divisional Canal Officer.

III.—Tanks shall be filled at such times as may be directed by the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer either by a general or by a special order. If it is desired to fill a tank at any other time. a written application shall be made to that effect. The filling of tanks shall be permitted only at such times and to such extent as the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer may approve.

IV.—No tank shall be so filled which by intercepting any line of drainage is liable to overflow from an accumulation of water derived from natural sources.

V.—No tank shall be so filled when the water-course used to fill it is, in the opinion of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer, in an unsound or unfit condition to carry the supply.

VI.—The privilege afforded by clause II of this rule may, in addition to any penalty which may be incurred under the Act, be suspended for twelve months for breach of any of the foregoing provisions under a written order of the Divisional Canal Officer passed on a regular proceeding and enquiry in each case. From such order an appeal shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer.

VII.—In cases in which tanks have been filled without the license prescribed in clause II, or during the suspension under clause VI of the privilege afforded by such license, or in which tanks for which licenses have been granted have been filled at times other than those prescribed by the Divisional or Sub-Divisional Canal Officer under clause III, the water so admitted into such tanks may be charged for at such rate, not exceeding the rate for the time being in force for water supplied in bulk, as the Divisional Canal Officer may in each case direct. Against such charges an appeal shall lie to the Superintending Canal Officer.

11. Contracts.—The Divisional Canal Officer, with the previous sanction of the Superintending Canal Officer, is empowered to make contracts for the supply of canal water for purposes other than irrigation, not specified in the schedule of rates, for any terms not exceeding one year. For terms exceeding one year the previous sanction of the Local Government shall be necessary.

12. Charges for water used for purposes other than irrigation.—Tanks may be filled with canal water for purposes other than those stated in clause I of rule 10. Such water will be charged for at rates and subject to conditions to be determined by the Local Government in each case.

12-A. Irrigation may also be carried on from tanks, provided the previous sanction of the Sub-Divisional Canal Officer be obtained. The usual rates will be charged for such irrigation.

13. Water supplied to Cantonments' Towns, &c.—When water is supplied to forts or other military buildings, cantonments, civil stations, cities, towns, railways, public gardens or other places of public resort, either by filling of tanks or by direct flow, contracts at special rates may be accepted by the Divisional Canal Officer with the previous sanction of the Local Government.

14. Water-power.—The use of water-power may be granted by the Divisional Canal Officer at such rates and under such conditions as may be sanctioned by the Local Government in each case

15. Closures for repairs and maintenance.—Divisional Canal Officers are empowered, for purposes of administration, repairs and maintenance, to order the closure of any water-course for periods, which shall not extend beyond twelve consecutive days. For longer closures the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer is required.

Section 32 (a).

16. Orders for closures under rule 15 must be notified either—

Section 32 (a).

(a) by a notification,

(b) by a special order.

Such notification or order shall be in writing under the hand of the Divisional Canal Officer, and a copy shall be conveyed by the canal establishment with due expedition to each village concerned, and delivered to the Patwári, or, in his absence, to any Lambardár. The receipt of each person to whom a copy of the notification or order is delivered shall be affixed to a schedule prepared for the purpose, which shall be recorded in the Divisional Canal Office.

It shall be the duty of the Patwári or Lambardar who receives the notification or order above described to affix it at once in a conspicuous position in the village and to make its purport generally known.

17. Closures of improperly maintained water-courses.—Stoppage of supply of water to any water-course under section 32 (a) (2) may be enforced when the Canal Officer ordering the stoppage has satisfied himself, by personal inspection, that the water-course is not maintained in proper repair. The order for such stoppage shall be in writing under the hand of the Divisional Canal Officer, and an immediate report shall be made to the Superintending Canal Officer, and the special grounds for stoppage explained. The Superintending Canal Officer's order shall be final.

Section 32 (a).

18. Report of closures.—Immediate report shall be made to Superintending Canal Officer of all closures under sub-clause (1), section 32 (a).

Section 32 (a).

19. Nothing in the foregoing rules shall be taken to affect the power of a Canal Officer to close any water-course or stop any supply of water on his own authority in cases which he deems to be of pressing emergency.

21. Charges for the use of water.—The charge for the use of water shall be made on the area irrigated at the rates specified in the schedules for the time being in force: Provided that—

(c) no rates shall be charged on crops irrigated from the Maggi Creek above the junction of the flood embankment;

These areas shall be entered as soon as any estimate is possible, and the entries shall be checked on the spot by Superior Revenue Officials whenever possible. Each crop will be separately assessed by applying the sanctioned rate to the recorded area.

Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Home Department (Public), No. 2831-42, dated 8th December 1899.

The Secretary of State for India has brought to the notice of the Government of India that it not infrequently happens that natives of India, students or others, who have proceeded to England, desire to obtain passports to enable them to travel to foreign countries in which the possession of a passport is necessary or desirable, and that difficulty often arises from want of evidence to show that the applicant is a British subject and therefore entitled to a passport. Appeals for assistance are also frequently addressed to His Lordship by destitute Indians who desire to return to their country and by students who, owing to embarrassed circumstances, are unable to complete their course of education.

2. In order to enable the Secretary to State to deal with such cases satisfactorily the Governor-General in Council has decided that it is necessary to press upon Indian students and others visiting England the desirability of providing themselves, before their departure from India, with an authoritative certificate of identity, in the form appended to this Resolution, signed by the head of the district (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) in the case of residents of British India and by the Political Officer in that of residents of Native States. For a student the certificate should be signed by the head of his last school or college and countersigned by the District Officer (in a Presidency Town, the Commissioner of Police) or Political Officer, as the case may be.

HOME DEPARTMENT.

LEGISLATIVE.

The 30th September 1907.

No. 42.—Notification.—The following is published for general information:—

No. 2643 S. (Home—Legislative), dated Simla, 27th September 1907.

From—The Hon'ble Mr. E. D. MACLAGAN, C.S., Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab,

To—All Commissioners of divisions in the Punjab.

I AM directed to forward a copy of a letter No. 2310—2317, dated the 24th of August 1907, from the Secretary to the Government of India in the Home Department, regarding the measures proposed by the Government of India for giving the people of India wider opportunities of expressing their views on administrative matters. I am to request that you will be good enough to forward your opinion on these proposals to the Local Government by the 1st of December next, after having consulted the Deputy Commissioners of your division and other selected officers whose opinion you think would be of value and also such individuals or bodies in each district as may be taken as representatives of the various classes of the native community. Translations into Urdu of this letter and its enclosure will shortly appear in the Government Gazette, and copies can be obtained on application to the Superintendent, Punjab Government Press, Lahore.

2. It will be convenient if in replying to this letter you would be good enough to put your opinion in the form of answers to the series of questions which form an enclosure to this letter, and it is requested that the persons consulted by you should in the same way put forward their opinions in this form. This suggestion only applies to the arrangement of the subject-matter of the opinions, and is in no way intended to prevent the fullest discussion of the points which emerge from the Government of India letter.

3. With reference to the proposals made in paragraphs 4 to 5 of the Government of India letter regarding the constitution of an Imperial Advisory Council, the Lieutenant-Governor has no special remarks at this stage to communicate.

4. The Provincial Advisory Councils are discussed in paragraphs 6 and 7 of the Government of India letter. If such a Council is to be constituted for the Punjab, it might perhaps consist of a nominated Council of some 20 members, of whom perhaps six or seven, including one or two Ruling Chiefs, would be members of the Imperial Advisory Council and the rest would be nominated (but not necessarily in any fixed proportion) to represent the landed and other interests mentioned in the Government of India letter.

5. With reference to the proposed enlargement of the Imperial Legislative Council (paragraphs 11 to 19 of the Government of India letter), it may be useful for you and the gentlemen whom you may consult to read the following description of the constitution of the present Imperial Legislative Council as described in volume IV, chapter V, of the new Imperial Gazetteer:—

"The Executive Council of the Governor-General at present (1906) consists—besides the Governor-General himself and the Commander-in-Chief, who is usually appointed by the Secretary of State to be an Extraordinary Member—of six Ordinary Members, of whom one must be an English or Irish Barrister or Scottish Advocate of not less than five years' standing. For the purposes of legislation, it is provided by the Indian Councils Acts of 1861 and 1892 that the Governor-General shall summon as an Additional Member the Lieutenant-Governor or Chief Commissioner of the Province in which the Council is assembled, and shall also nominate such other persons, not less than ten nor more than sixteen, as he may think fit. Of these Additional Members, who are appointed for two years at a time, one-half at least must be non-officials*; and, in order to give the Council an elective as well as a representative character, statutory rules now require the nominations to five seats to be made on the recommendation of the Calcutta Chamber of Commerce and the non-official members of the local Legislative Councils at Madras, Bombay, Calcutta and Allahabad. The remaining seats may be filled in such manner as appears to the Governor-General most suitable, regard being had to the business in hand and the different classes of the community to be represented. . . ."

*Under the existing statutory rules not more than six of the nominated Additional Members may be officials.

The maximum number of members therefore is at present 24 excluding the Viceroy, and it is now proposed to raise this figure to 53 in the manner outlined in paragraph 12 of the Government of India letter, the number of elected members being at the same time raised from 5 to 18. In dealing with the constitution of the proposed Council the chief points for consideration are—

(1) The general representation of classes and interests which the composition of the Council affords.

(2) The method of election by the Provincial Councils (paragraph 13 of the Government of India letter).

(3) The method of selection from the great landowners of this province to one seat on the Imperial Council (paragraphs 14 and 15).

(4) The method of selection from the Muhammadans of this province to Muhammadan seats on the Imperial and Provincial Councils (paragraphs 16 to 18).

As regards the third of these questions, it may be noted that from enquiries made in May last it was ascertained that there were in this province 52 landowners paying a land revenue of Rs. 5,000 and over, distributed as follows:—

| Class. | | | Hindús. | Muhammadans. | Christians. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Rs. | Rs. | | | | |
| I.—Paying land revenue ... | 5,000 to | 10,000 | 13 | 22 | 7 | 42 |
| II.— " " " ... | 10,000 " | 15,000 | 3 | 2 | ... | 5 |
| III.— " " " ... | 15,000 " | 20,000 | ... | 1 | ... | 1 |
| IV.— " " " ... | 20,000 " | 25,000 | ... | ... | 1 | 1 |
| V.— " " " ... | 25,000 " | 50,000 | 2 | 1 | ... | 3 |
| | Total | ... | 18 | 26 | 8 | 52 |

As regards the fourth question, enquiries have been instituted with a view to obtaining statistics of the classes of possible Muhammadan electors referred to in paragraph 18 of the Government of India letter, and these will be forwarded when obtained. It will be noticed that paragraph 17 refers to election for the Provincial Council only: see also paragraph 8 of this letter. In discussing the constitution of a special Muhammadan electorate the question whether its members should or should not be allowed to vote in the open elections also must be considered.

6. As regards the Provincial Legislative Councils, which form the subject of paragraphs 17 and 20 to 22 of the Government of India letter, the general system now in force in India is described as follows in the Gazetteer:—

"The subordinate Legislative Councils are constituted on the same lines generally as the superior legislature of the Governor-General. In Madras and Bombay the Governor is assisted by an Executive Council of two Ordinary Members, and these three form the nucleus of the larger Legislative Council: but in each of the other provinces the Lieutenant-Governor stands alone at the head of the local administration. The Acts of 1861 and 1892 provide that the Governor or Lieutenant-Governor, as the case may be, shall nominate as members, for two years at a time, the Advocate-General of the province or other officer acting in that capacity, and—subject, save in Madras and Bombay, to the sanction of the Governor-General—such other persons, not less than eight nor more than twenty,* as he may think expedient, at least one-half being non-officials. In Madras, Bombay, Bengal, and the United Provinces some of these members are appointed on the recommendation of groups of municipalities and district boards, Universities, Chambers of Commerce, and the like, and the elective principle is thus to some extent recognised."

*These are the maximum and minimum numbers fixed by the statute for Madras and Bombay. As regards the other provinces, the statute fixes a maximum of 20 for Bengal and 15 for the United Provinces, but otherwise leaves the numbers to be determined by the Governor-General.

The Government of India in their letter now forwarded have chiefly in view the case of provinces where a Legislative Council is of some standing and a certain number of its members are elected. In the Punjab a Legislative Council was first constituted in 1897, and it consists of not more than nine members in addition to the Lieutenant-Governor. The members are all nominated and at least one-third of them must be non-officials.

7. In considering the future constitution of the Punjab Council, the necessity of maintaining an official majority, and the limitation which this necessity imposes upon the total number (paragraph 10 of Government of India letter) must be borne in mind.

8. It is for consideration whether the province is as yet sufficiently advanced for the introduction of a system of election for the Legislative Council The results of the present system of nomination have been that on an average the Council has contained five non-official members, of whom one has been a Hindu, one a Sikh, two Muhammadans and one a Christian. Of 19 such members appointed since the Council was initiated, five have been Ruling Princes or their near relatives, five have been landowners, five have been distinguished officials of Native States or retired officials of Government, three were lawyers and one was a banker. In considering how far the Council as thus consituted has been representative of the different clauses of the people and in what manner representation should be insured if the system of appointment is altered, it may be convenient to have before you the statistics of the last census, which show that the percentage of the agricultural to the total population in the British districts of the province is 54 per cent., the Government officials, &c., constitute 1·8 per cent., the landholders and tenants 52 per cent., the landholders alone 34 per cent., the commercial classes 5 per cent., the literate population 3·8 per cent, those literate in English ·4 per cent., the population of the towns 1·1 per cent., the Hindus 38·8 per cent., Sikhs 7·5 per cent., and Muhammadans 53·3 per cent. At the same time, too much importance must not be attached to these statistics, as the interests represented by a given class are often important out of all proportion to its mere numerical weight. It has in this connection been suggested that even if the present system of nomination is otherwise maintained, the Senate of the University might be asked to elect one member for the Council, and there are of course advantages in this method of receiving a representative of the educated classes, but there is, on the other hand, a certain inconvenience attending the introduction of a political element into a body, which is constituted for purely educational objects. The Lieutenant-Governor would be glad if this suggestion would be considered.

As regards the possible constitution of a Muhammadan electorate for the selection of special Muhammadan members such as is suggested in paragraph 17 of the Government of India letter, I am to say that statistics relating to the classes of electors suggested in that paragraph have been called for and will be forwarded on receipt (see also the end of paragraph 5 above)

9. As regards the proposed discussion of the Budget in the Legislative Council, it will be observed that the system of discussion of the Provincial Budget has not yet been introduced into the Punjab Provincial Council; but it is possible to introduce the system without difficulty if its results are thought likely to be useful. Should the Provincial Budget be brought before the Council in the near future, it may be that, for some time at least, a general debate on the whole Budget would suffice for its proper discussion, but the Lieutenant-Governor would be glad to have opinions on this point, as well as on the advisability of permitting discussion.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor is sure that the officers consulted will recognize the very great importance of the questions now referred to them for opinion, and will give them their best consideration. It is especially desirable that the opinions of natives of all classes should be represented. The number of associations or individuals from whom formal written opinions will be obtained must necessarily be limited; but opportunity should be freely taken to discuss the matter verbally with as many as possible of all classes who are capable of forming an intelligent opinion upon it, and the general trend of the opinions thus elicited should be reported to Government. The officers consulted should give their opinions upon each of the questions referred to them. For instance, an officer who does not think that election should be allowed, should nevertheless give his opinion, as to the best method of election, if that system is decided upon. In the Government of India letter the separate representation of Muhammadans only is considered; and the questions attached to this letter follow it. But in the Punjab the Sikh community also is of the greatest importance; and it should be considered whether any, and what, measures are necessary to ensure its adequate representation.

* * * * * * *

IN a speech addressed to the Legislative Council on the 27th March last His Excellency the Viceroy announced that, with the object of satisfying the constitutional requirements of the Indian Empire, the Government of India had of their own initiative taken into consideration the question of giving the people of India wider opportunities of expressing their views on administrative matters. The Secretary of State for India has since intimated in his speech in the House of Commons on the Indian Budget that His Majesty's Government have examined the proposals submitted to them by the Government of India, and have authorised the Governor-General in Council to consult Local Governments and invite public opinion on this important subject.

2. It is now twenty years since Lord Dufferin's Government initiated the discussions which resulted in the passing of the Councils Act of 1892. The reforms then introduced, comprising the enlargement of the Legislative Councils, the recognition of the elective principle, the admission of interpellations and the free discussion of the Budget, were held to be justified by the spread of English education, by the increased employment of natives of India in the actual administration of the country and by the indubitable proof which they had given of their intellectual fitness for such employment. The extent of the advance that has since taken place in the development of the educated classes can hardly be judged by statistical tests. But it may be mentioned that within the last twenty years the number of scholars studying English has risen from 298,000 to 505,000; whilst the number of students passing the annual Matriculation Examination of the Indian Universities has increased from 4,286 in 1886 to 8,211 in 1905, and the number of Bachelors of Arts from 708 in the former year to 1,570 in the latter. During this period higher education has penetrated to circles which a generation ago had hardly been affected by its influence. The Ruling Chiefs and the landholding and commercial classes possessing a material stake in the country, and representing the most powerful and stable elements of Indian society have now become qualified to take a more prominent part in public life, and to render a larger measure of assistance to the Executive Government. They no longer stand aloof from the new social and political conditions which affect the course of Indian affairs; they have profited greatly by the educational advantages offered to them under British rule; and they are anxious to be afforded an opportunity of expressing their views on matters of practical administration. No scheme of constitutional reform would meet the real requirements of the present time which did not make adequate provision for representing the landed aristocracy of India, the mercantile and industrial classes, and the great body of moderate men who, under existing conditions, have no sufficient inducement to enter political life, and find but little scope for the exercise of their legitimate influence. For the present at any rate the needs and sentiments of the masses of the people must find expression through those, whether officials or non-officials, who are acquainted with their daily life and are qualified to speak with authority on their behalf. Nor does the scheme now put forward contemplate any surrender or weakening of paramount British power in India upon which depend the safety and welfare of the vast populations there committed to it. Subject to this essential condition, that the executive authority of the Government is maintained in undiminished strength, the Government of India believe that the proposals outlined below represent a considerable advance in the direction of bringing all classes of the people into closer relations with the Government and its officers, and of increasing their opportunities of making known their feelings and wishes in respect of administrative and legislative questions. The classes which will be enabled, under the present scheme, to take a more effective part in shaping the action of Government, may reasonably look forward, as the necessary outcome of the measures now in contemplation, to a larger share in the actual work of administration and more extensive employment in the higher offices of the State. The Government of India recognise the essential justice of the claim that is put forward, and they are convinced that it is possible, without neglecting the other interests and obligations involved, to move gradually forward towards the fulfilment, in no grudging spirit, of a pledge which the peoples of India are entitled to regard as inviolable.

3. The Governor-General in Council has been much struck by the difficulty encountered by the Governments in India in making their measure and motives generally understood, and in correcting erroneous and often mischievous statements of fact or purpose imputed to them. When the right of interpellation was granted by the India Councils Act of 1892 to the Legislative Councils, it was hoped that by that means correct information on public affairs might be more widely diffused. The Legislative Councils, however, are called together only when there is legislation to be undertaken, their meetings are too infrequent to offer the means of confidential and intimate consultation between Government and its subjects, and the strict procedure by which they are restrained naturally tends to formality. A means for this free and close consultation might be supplied by Advisory Councils of the type explained below, and in the opinion of the Government of India their organisation should be undertaken with this as a principal object in view.

AN IMPERIAL ADVISORY COUNCIL.

4. All Indian Governments, and all administrative officers in their respective positions, have made it their business to elicit the opinions on administrative measures and proposals for action of those qualified to advise them in all ranks of society; and this process will, of course, continue. Such advice and opinion as are thus obtained are the indispensable foundation upon which good administration is built up, and the regular consultation of persons qualified to give them is part of the necessary procedure of Government. It has, however, long been felt that considerable advantages might be expected from any measures which, without impeding the free action of the Executive Government of India in the general conduct of affairs, would in some degree associate the great Ruling Chiefs and the territorial magnates of British India with the Governor-General in the guardianship of common and Imperial interests. The realisation of this idea has now been rendered more practicable by the closer conformity of the general principles and methods of administration in the more advanced Native States to those followed in British territory, and by the fact that common interests have arisen, and that certain measures, such as famine relief or education, may from time to time affect their own subjects and dominions, calling for co-operation between the States and the British Government. A measure of the kind contemplated would thus to some extent satisfy a growing want in India. It would give a greater sense of responsibility to those whose advice is sought on questions submitted to them, and it would at the same time commend itself to public opinion as tending to promote more intimate relations between the component parts of the Indian Empire. The establishment and recognition of a determinate body of advisers, who, while requiring no legislative recognition, and possessing in themselves no formal powers of initiative, would be consulted individually by the Governor-General, and would occasionally be called together, either in whole or in part, for the purpose of collective deliberation, and would be entitled, when so summoned, to offer their counsel on matters affecting the welfare of the people, would, in the opinion of the Government of India, be a marked step in constitutional progress. It would maintain unimpaired the authority and responsibility of the Executive Government, and it would be in accordance with the best traditions of oriental polity. These have always recognised that the Sovereign, however absolute, should make it his business to consult competent advisers, and should exercise his rule in accordance with what, after such consultation, he deems to be the best mind of his people. The scheme would thus be no innovation in principle (as are some applications of Western methods to Eastern society), and if judiciously applied would, by evoking the stable forces fundamentally so strong in India, lend valuable aid to the orderly working of government. For this purpose what appears to be needed is an Imperial Advisory Council of sufficient size and weight to represent the views of the hereditary leaders of the people, both in British India and in the principal Native States, to be consulted by the Governor-General either individually or collectively or by means of committees appointed from among their number, on questions of sufficient moment to call for their advice, and to be used by him not only to draw out opinion on measures in contemplation, but also—what is hardly less important—as an agency for the diffusion of correct information upon the acts, intentions, and objects of Government.

5. It seems to the Government of India that the purposes which they have in view might possibly be attained somewhat on the lines of the following proposals :—

(1) That a Council to be called "The Imperial Advisory Council" should be formed for purely consultative purposes.

(2) That all the members should be appointed by the Viceroy and should receive the title of "Imperial Councillors."

(3) That the Council should consist of about sixty members for the whole of India, including about twenty Ruling Chiefs and a suitable number of the territorial magnates of every province where landholders of sufficient dignity and status are to be found.

(4) That the members should hold office for a substantial term, say for five years, and should be eligible for re-appointment.

(5) That the Council should receive no legislative recognition, and should not be vested with formal powers of any sort.

(6) That its functions should be purely advisory, and that it should deal only with such matters as might be specifically referred to it from time to time.

(7) That the proceedings of the Council when called together for collective consultation should, as a rule, be private, informal and confidential, and they would not be published, although Government would be at liberty to make any use of them that it thought proper. The Government of India believe that only confidential communications will secure frank interchange of opinion, but they are disposed to think that it might be advisable, after matters had been threshed out in confidential consultation, to provide for some public conferences at any rate on those occasions when the Government desires to make its motives and intentions better known, to correct misstatements, and to remove erroneous impressions.

PROVINCIAL ADVISORY COUNCILS.

6. The main work of Indian administration, however, is carried on by the various Provincial Governments, and it appears to the Governor-General in Council desirable that these should, in like manner, when the local conditions admit, be furnished with a selected body of advisors, chosen upon a wider basis, whom it should be understood that they would consult upon all measures of importance affecting the populations committed to their charge. The constitution proposed for the Imperial Advisory Council provides for the appointment of members chosen with reference to their status and influence from each of the provinces of British India. These provincial members of the Imperial Council, representing as a rule the great landholders of the province to which they belong, might, it is thought, with advantage form the nucleus of a Provincial Advisory Council which would discharge in respect of provincial questions consultative functions similar to those entrusted to the members of the Imperial Council. The Provincial Councils would be of smaller size than the Imperial Council, but their membership should be large enough to embrace all interests of sufficient importance to claim representation on such a body. The great landholders would be represented by the Imperial Advisory Councillors, but it is essential that the smaller landholders, industry, commerce, capital, and the professional classes should also be included in the Council; while the association of non-official Europeans, standing for these important interests, with the natural leaders of Indian Society in common consultation on matters of public importance would tend to promote a better understanding, and to clear away on both sides injurious prejudices and misconceptions. The number required for this purpose might be made up by adding to the Imperial Advisory Councillors, who as stated above would represent the landholders, representatives of other important provincial interests who would be nominated for the Viceroy's approval by the head of the Local Government. Each Local Government should be at liberty to consult its Advisory Council either individually or collectively in regard to any provincial question. In the former case they would be consulted by letter, and would submit their views in writing. In the latter case they would be specially called together by the head of the province and would tender a collective opinion. On such occasions the head of the Government himself, or some high official deputed by him for the purpose, would preside over their deliberations, and the conclusions arrived at would be recorded by one of the Secretaries to Government, who would attend the meeting for the purpose of furnishing such information as might be required regarding the matters under discussion. The Government of India attach the highest importance to collective deliberation, since the opinions thus obtained are different from and frequently more valuable than those elicited by individual consultation.

7. It will be observed that these Advisory Councils are intended to be entirely distinct from the Legislative bodies, whose powers are defined by Statute, and whose functions are restricted to dealing with measures of legislation laid before them, to discussing the Budget, and to approaching the Government on matters of administration by means of formal interpellations. It may, of course, happen that members of the Advisory Councils may sit on the Legislative Council, either of the Governor-General or of the Local Government. In their capacity of advisers they will be consulted both on matters on which no legislation is contemplated, and on measures which may eventually assume legislative shape, but the principles and scope of which call for enquiry and deliberation before they are cast into the form of an enactment. This is, in fact, the process now followed; and the object of the Government of India, in proposing the constitution of the new advisory bodies, is to give clearer definition and continuity to methods already partially and occasionally adopted.

ENLARGEMENT OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCILS.

8. As long ago as May 1889 Lord Lansdowne's Government expressed their opinion—

(a) That the opportunities accorded to the Legislative Council of the Governor-General for passing under review the financial situation of the country should occur with regularity and independently of the necessity of financial legislation in any particular year; and

(b) That members of the Council ought to have, under proper safeguards, the right of addressing questions to the Government on matters of public interest.

They considered it desirable to extend these two changes of procedure to the Provincial Legislative Councils, and they suggested that any changes in the law which might prove to be necessary for this purpose, and in order to enlarge the size and extend the functions of the Councils, should be simultaneously effected both for the Legislative Council of the Governor-General and for the Provincial Legislative Councils. The discussion thus initiated resulted in the passing of the Indian Councils Act of 1892. In forwarding a copy of that Act to the Government of India, the Secretary of State referred briefly to the beneficial results of the Indian Councils Act of 1861, and to the general considerations which justified the enlargement of the Legislative Councils, and drew attention to the provision authorising the Governor-General in Council, with the approval of the Secretary of State, to make regulations as to the conditions under which nominations of additional members should be made and to prescribe the manner in which those regulations should be carried into effect. He observed that the spread of education and enlightened public spirit, and the recent organisation of local self-government, might render it possible to give representation to the views of different races, classes, and localities through the medium of corporations vested with definite powers upon a recognised administrative basis, or of associations formed upon a substantial community of legitimate interests, professional, commercial, and territorial.

9. When the Councils were thus enlarged and the elective principle was introduced, it was recognised that territorial representation was unsuited to India, but an endeavour was made to constitute the electorates so that all the more important classes and interests should, as far as possible, be represented. In the case of Provincial Councils it is admitted that the results have not justified the expectations formed. The district boards in particular have conspicuously failed to fulfil the expectation that they would represent the landed interest. Out of 54 members elected by them to the Provincial Councils, only 10 have been landholders, while 36 have been barristers and pleaders. Similarly, out of 43 members elected by the district municipalities, 40 have been barristers or pleaders and only two landholders. Something has been done by nomination to remedy these defects; but of the 338 non-official members who have been appointed, whether by election or by nomination, to the Provincial Councils since election was introduced in 1893, as many as 123 or 36 per cent. have been lawyers and only 77 or 22 per cent landowners. It is thus apparent that the elective system has given to the legal profession a prominence in the Provincial Councils to which it is not entitled, while it has signally failed to represent other important elements of the community. These shortcomings are reflected in the Legislative Council of the Governor-General, where of the non-official members nominated or elected since 1893, 27 or 40 per cent. have been lawyers or schoolmasters, while the landholders have numbered only 16 or 23·5 per cent. and the mercantile community has been represented by 17 or 25 per cent. The Government of India are far from denying that the professional classes are entitled to a share of representation proportioned not merely to their numbers, which are small, but to their influence, which is large and tends continually to increase. But they are not prepared to allow them a virtual monopoly of the power exercised by the Councils, and they believe that the soundest solution of the problem is to be found in supplying the requisite counterpoise to their excessive influence by creating an additional electorate recruited from the landed and monied classes.

10. It is the desire of the Governor-General in Council that the Legislative Councils in India should now be enlarged to the fullest extent compatible with the necessary authority of the Government. He desires, moreover, that these bodies should be so constituted in respect of non-official members as to give due and ample representation to the different classes and interests of the community. In carrying out this system, which the Government of India agree with Lord Lansdowne's Government in regarding as the only one in any way applicable to Indian conditions, they consider it essential that the Government should always be able to reckon on a numerical majority, and that this majority should be strong enough to be independent of the minor fluctuations that may be caused by the occasional absence of an official member. The principle of a standing majority is accepted by the Government as an entirely legitimate and necessary consequence of the nature of the paramount power in India, and so far as they know it has never been disputed by any section of Indian opinion that does not dispute the legitimacy of the paramount power itself. That is not an open question, and if two men are not able to wield one sceptre, it is idle to dissemble that fact in constructing political machinery. The question then arises, what number of official members of the requisite standing and experience can, without detriment to the public service, be spared from their regular duties for attendance in Legislative Councils? The enlargement of the Councils is certain to add considerably to protraction of debate, thus entailing larger calls upon the time of their members. The necessity of maintaining an official majority thus implies the necessity of limiting the number of non-official members; and the problem which faces the Government of India now, as it faced Lord Lansdowne's Government fifteen years ago, is how to provide for the due representation, within the narrow limits thus imposed, of the vast diversity of classes, races, and interests in the Indian Empire.

THE IMPERIAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

11. The most logical and convenient mode of dealing with the question would have been first to discuss and settle the composition, the electorates, and the powers of the Provincial Legislative Councils and then to build up on the basis of these materials a revised constitution for the Imperial Council That was the procedure followed with great care and thoroughness by Lord Lansdowne's Government in the years 1889 to 1893 when no single step was taken without the amplest consultation with the Provincial Governments. It may no doubt be said that the scheme set forth below for the enlargement of the Imperial Legislative Council will afford a convenient model for the guidance of the Local Governments in framing their own proposals. This statement, however, is true only to a limited extent. From the nature of the case that scheme makes no provision for the representation of the municipalities and district boards, the Universities, the Presidency Corporations, the Trades Associations, the European planting and industrial interests and Indian commerce, so that in respect of these essential elements of the Provincial Councils it can hardly be said to afford sufficient guidance to Local Governments. The constitution of the Imperial Legislative Council is in fact so closely bound up with that of the Provincial Councils, by which a certain proportion of its members are elected, that it is almost impossible to formulate final proposals for the one without having first determined the character of the other. It must be understood, therefore, that the scheme set forth below for the enlargement of the Legislative Council of the Governor-General is intended to be entirely provisional and suggestive, that it indicates only the main lines upon which, in the unaided judgment of the Government of India, the extension of the Council might be effected, and that they reserve to themselves the fullest discretion to modify their proposals in the light of the comments and criticisms which those proposals may elicit from the Local Governments and the public.

12. With these introductory remarks the Government of India pass on to consider how the principle of the representation of classes and interests can be given effect to in the Governor-General's Legislative Council. They suggest that the Council might in future be constituted on the following lines :—

(1) The maximum strength of the Council might be 53, or, including the Viceroy, 54.

(2) This number might be made up thus—

|---|---|
| A.—Ex-officio, the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal (or of the Punjab when the Council assembles in Simla), the Commander-in-Chief, and the members of Executive Council ... ... | 8 |
| B.—Additional officials to be nominated, not exceeding ... ... | 20 |
| C.—A Ruling Chief to be nominated by the Viceroy ... ... | 1 |
| D.—Elected members— | |
| (a) by the Chambers of Commerce of Calcutta and Bombay ... | 2 |
| (b) by the non-official members of the Provincial Councils of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, Eastern Bengal and Assam, the United Provinces, the Punjab, and Burma ... ... ... | 7 |
| (c) by the nobles and the great landowners of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, Eastern Bengal and Assam, the United Provinces, the Punjab, and the Central Provinces ... ... | 7 |
| (d) by Muhammadans ... ... ... | 2 |
| E.—Non-officials nominated by the Viceroy to represent minorities or special interests, not less than two to be Muhammadans ... | 4 |
| F.—Experts to be nominated by the Viceroy, when necessary, for special purposes ... ... ... ... | 2 |
| Total ... | 53 |
| or, including His Excellency the Viceroy ... ... | 54 |

13. Under the present system four additional members are elected by the non-official members of the Councils of Bombay, Madras, Bengal, and the United Provinces. The Government of India propose to raise the number to seven by extending the privilege of election to the non-official members of the Councils of Eastern Bengal and Assam, the Punjab and Burma. The number of non-official members of such Councils will no doubt be materially increased. This will remove the objections which have been taken to entrusting the privilege of election to so important a post as that of member of the Viceroy's Council to an electorate consisting of only about ten persons.

14. The Government of India are impressed with the necessity for giving substantial representation to the great landholders, who not only constitute the aristocratic and stable elements in Indian society, but also represent the interests of the landlords, great and small. For the purpose of securing the adequate representation of this class, it has been suggested that a list of electors should be formed in each province, and that they should be required to elect direct. The precise details of the electorate will require careful consideration, and they will necessarily vary with the circumstances of each province, but the general idea is that a provincial electorate varying in size from one hundred to one hundred and fifty should be aimed at, and that the amount of land revenue giving the right to vote should not be less than Rs. 10,000 a year. The exact limit to be fixed must, of course, depend on the status of the landholders in the province concerned. In every case it would be made a condition that the member elected to represent this class must himself belong to it. Owing to the peculiar conditions of Burma, where there are no large landowners outside the primitive Shan States, that province would be excluded from this category.

15. The question may be raised whether a satisfactory constituency for the purpose of electing a member of the Imperial Legislative Council can be formed by massing together for voting purposes the entire body of landholders in so large and in many respects so heterogeneous an area as an entire province. It may be thought that an electorate thus constituted would be wanting in solidarity, that it would be apt to fall into the hands of wirepullers, and that by reason of the incongruous elements which it comprised, it might fail to choose a suitable representative on the Imperial Council. On this point, therefore, the Governor-General in Council reserves judgment until he is in possession of the views of local Governments. As an alternative solution the suggestion has been made that a representative of the landholders should be elected to the Imperial Council by the landholding members of the Provincial Council either from among their own number, or from among landholders paying the amount of land revenue that may be fixed as giving the right to vote for or to be a member of the Provincial Council. It is also a matter for consideration whether in some Provinces representatives of this class, whether on the Provincial or on the Imperial Council, cannot be better obtained by a system of nomination.

16. The last point that remains for consideration under this head relates to the representation of special interests and minorities, and in particular of the Muhammadan community. In this connection I am to invite attention to the observations made by His Excellency the Viceroy in reply to the address presented to him by a large and representative deputation on the 1st October 1906. The Government of India concur with the presenters of the address that neither on the Provincial nor in the Imperial Legislative Councils has the Muhammadan community hitherto received a measure of representation commensurate with its numbers and political and historical importance; and they desire to lay stress upon His Excellency's observation that "any electoral representation in India would be doomed to mischievous failure which aimed at granting a personal enfranchisement regardless of the beliefs and traditions of the communities composing the population of this continent." Under the system of election hitherto in force, Hindus largely predominate in all or almost all the electorates, with the result that comparatively few Muhammadan members have been elected. These have been supplemented by nominations made by Government. But the total representation thus effected has not been commensurate with the weight to which the Muhammadan community is entitled; and it has, moreover, been strongly urged that even the system of nomination has frequently failed to secure the appointment of Muhammadans of the class by whom the community desires to be represented.

17. The Government of India suggest, therefore, for the consideration of Local Governments, the adoption of the following measures:—Firstly, in addition to the small number of Muhammadans who may be able to secure election in the ordinary manner, it seems desirable in each of the Councils to assign a certain number of seats to be filled exclusively by Muhammadans. Secondly, for the purpose of filling the latter, or a proportion of them, a special Muhammadan electorate might be constituted consisting of the following classes:—

(1) All who pay land revenue in excess of a certain amount. The figure need not be the same in each province; but should in all cases be sufficiently low to embrace the great body of substantial landholders.

(2) All payers of income-tax. This would comprise the trading and professional classes, with incomes exceeding Rs. 1,000 a year.

(3) All registered graduates of an Indian University of more than, say, five years' standing.

The electoral lists would be prepared on a district basis, and the distribution of seats would be settled by the Local Governments. It would not be necessary, however, to throw open all the seats to election. Indian gentlemen of position sometimes refuse to offer themselves as candidates to a wide electorate, partly because they dislike canvassing, and partly by reason of their reluctance to risk the indignity of being defeated by a rival candidate of inferior social status. For these reasons it would probably be advisable to reserve a proportion of the seats to be filled, as at present, by nomination.

18. In the case of the Governor-General's Council it has been suggested that of the four seats which the Government of India have proposed to set apart for Muhammadans, two should be filled by nomination by the Viceroy. For the other two election by the following provinces in rotation, viz., Bengal, Eastern Bengal and Assam, the United Provinces, Punjab, Bombay and Madras, is suggested. In Burma and the Central Provinces the proportion of Muhammadans is not large enough to entitle them to special representation. The composition of the electorate in the six provinces mentioned above formed the subject of representations by some prominent members of the Muhammadan deputation which waited upon His Excellency the Viceroy in October 1906. They proposed that the electorate should be constituted as follows:—

(a) The Muhammadan non-official members of the Provincial Councils as ultimately expanded.

(b) The Muhammadan Fellows of the local University, where one exists.

(c) Muhammadans paying income-tax upon an annual income of Rs. 25,000 or paying an amount of land revenue, to be determined for each province separately, which will indicate a corresponding income.

The Government of India apprehend that some difficulty may be experienced in compiling a list of voters under the last of these heads, but this is a matter on which they will be guided by the opinion of Local Governments. Should it be found impracticable to compile a register of voters under (c), then they are disposed to think that the electorate should be confined to the Muhammadan non-official members of the Provincial Councils. This proposal is open to the objection that the number of electors will be small; but it has the merit of being uniform with the system under which the other non-official members are elected by the members of the Provincial Councils.

19. Of the four seats provided for the nomination of non-officials under head E, two would be reserved for Muhammadans, to whom not less than four seats in the Governor-General's Council would thus be definitely appropriated. Inasmuch as in two of the seven provinces with Legislative Councils, namely, Eastern Bengal and Assam and the Punjab, the followers of this religion constitute a majority of the population, it seems possible that a certain number of Muhammadans may also be returned to the Council under sub-head (b) of head D.

THE PROVINCIAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCILS.

20. The foregoing scheme for the Imperial Legislative Council necessarily omits several elements which may form part of the Provincial Councils. Having regard to the wide variety of conditions in different parts of India, it is improbable that any one scheme will prove to be equally adapted to all provinces. For instance, the principle of having recourse to election may be distasteful to the landed classes in some provinces, while in others, where it has become familiar, it may be accepted without objection. The general principle to be borne in mind is, as already stated, that the widest representation should be given to classes, races, and interests, subject to the condition that an official majority must be maintained.

21. At present the larger number of the elected members of the Provincial Councils, who again constitute the majority of the electorate for the Imperial Council, are chosen by municipalities and district boards. The Government of India have examined the franchises which have been framed for these bodies, and they find that the qualifications required both for electors and for candidates are extraordinarily low

Thus, in all but three of the mufassil towns of Bengal, any one who pays Re. 1-8-0 a year in rates is entitled to vote in the election of municipal commissioners, and is, himself, eligible for membership, not only of the municipal committee, but also of the Provincial Legislative Council; while any one who pays Re. 1 a year as road cess may take part in the elections for the local boards, who in their turn elect the members of the district boards This is the franchise upon which the election of the Bengal members, not only of the Provincial, but also in large degree of the Imperial Council, rests ultimately, though not immediately. And in the other provinces the qualifications are of much the same order of magnitude. These franchises were primarily devised with a view not to election of Councils, but to the management of local affairs; and their unsuitability as a foundation for the election of legislators seems to have escaped notice in 1893. The Government of India do not propose to withdraw from district boards and municipalities the privilege of election to the Provincial Councils which they have enjoyed for the last fourteen years. But it does not follow that the present system of voting must be maintained unchanged, and a solution might perhaps be arrived at by introducing special qualifications for members of Council, while leaving the electoral franchise in other respects unchanged.

22. It would be well also to consider whether, in view of the constitution of Indian society, it would not be advisable to introduce some much system for the representation of classes now liable to be crowded out by any predominant section of the population, as has already been admitted to be necessary in the case of Muhammadans. The Government of India do not wish to impose upon Provincial Governments any special line of action in making proposals with this object, but they desire to draw attention to the following scheme which has been suggested to them for the due representation of classes in Local Councils and Boards:—

(a) The Local Government shall determine how many seats are to be filled by elected representatives of the most important classes into which the population of the province is divided by race, caste, or religion, and shall allot these seats to the several classes.

(b) For the election of representatives of each class the Local Governments shall publish a list of voters consisting of members of that class who have held or are holding office in the municipal or local boards, supplemented by others whom the Government may nominate after consultation with the anjumans, panchayats or other bodies who have been constituted by the class in question for the direction of its own affairs.

(c) As the constitutions of the Provincial Councils must largely depend upon the municipal and local boards, it is suggested that Local Governments should introduce into their systems of election and nominations for these boards the principle of assigning a fixed proportion of seats to each of the leading classes into which the population is divided by race, caste, or religion and permitting the members of that class to select its own representative. In the municipalities of Rangoon and Mandalay and to a limited extent in certain municipalities in the United Provinces this principle of class representation has been adopted with successful results. In the case of district and local boards it might perhaps be possible to distribute the seats to be filled by election among occupational groups, such as landholders, cultivators, traders and professional men, and to select certain castes as representing each group. The literate members of those castes who paid a certain sum in taxes or possessed certain property qualifications might then be empowered to elect one of their own number to represent the occupational group on the board. Suppose, for example, that in a particular area eight members had to be elected to serve on the local board, four seats might be allotted to the Muhammadans if their number were large enough to entitle them to this proportion, and the remaining four distributed among the Hindús, so that one seat should be given to the landholders, one to the traders, one to the cultivators and one to the artisans. The census statistics supplemented by local enquiries would afford the means of determining what castes should be selected for the purpose of electing a member for each of these groups, and only literate persons belonging to those castes and having certain property qualifications would be entitled to vote in the electoral group to which their caste had been assigned and to elect a representative possessing similar qualifications from one of the castes so assigned. It seems probable that by some plan of this kind the voting power might be distributed over a wider circle than at present, and would be less liable to become concentrated in the hands of a single section of the community. The same object might be attained, without making use of the caste organization, by simply forming electoral groups on the basis of the four classes specified above and fixing for each group a distinct and appropriate franchise. For landholders the qualification might be the payment of a certain sum in the form of land revenue or cesses; for cultivators a certain rental; for traders and professional men so much income-tax. In each case the electors ought to be literate, and they should be required to elect from among their own group.

DISCUSSION OF THE BUDGET IN THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

23. The discursive and unfruitful character of the Budget debates, both in the Imperial and Provincial Councils, has on many occasions formed the subject of comment and criticism. The Government of India entirely recognise the defects of the practice which prevails under the existing regulations, and they are anxious to introduce such changes as will make the debates less unreal and will bring them into closer relation with the financial policy and administrative decisions of the Government. To this end they propose that the Budget should be discussed, in the first instance, by separate heads, or groups of heads, which would be explained severally by the member in administrative charge, this discussion being followed by a general debate in which members would enjoy the same freedom as at present of criticising the administration. This change would evidently involve an extension of the time now allotted to the discussion, and it would afford a far better opportunity for systematic criticism than exists under present arrangements. These compel a member of Council to include within the limits of a single speech all the observations that he has to offer on any of the numerous subjects that naturally present themselves in an annual review of the administration of the revenues of India. Remarks made in the course of the ampler and more practical discussion which is now contemplated would be borne in mind by the Government of India or the Local Government when making financial arrangements in subsequent years, and it might perhaps on occasion be found possible to alter the Budget actually under review.

24. These are the provisional and tentative proposals which, with the approval of His Majesty's Government, the Governor-General in Council now lays before the Governor in Council / His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor / you in the fullest confidence that thay will receive the careful scrutiny and sympathetic consideration that their high importance demands. I am to request that after consultation with important bodies and individuals representative of the various classes of the community, the Local Government will submit its matured conclusions to the Government of India on each branch of the subject, together with a detailed statement of the alterations that the Governor in Council / the Lieutenant-Governor / you desire(s) to make in the Council regulations in order to carry his proposals into effect.

25. I am to ask that a reply to this letter may be received by the Government of India not later than 1st March 1908.

Provided that, when the Deputy Commissioner or such other officer as aforesaid is a member of the Cantonment Committee, the appeal shall lie to the Commissioner of the division.

(2) If, on the hearing of an appeal under this rule, any question as to the liability to, or the principle of assessment of, a tax arises, on which the officer hearing the appeal entertains reasonable doubt, he may, either of his own motion or on the application of any person interested, draw up a statement of the facts of the case and the point on which doubt is entertained, and refer the statement with his own opinion on the point for the decision of the Chief Court.

(3) On a reference being made under this rule the subsequent proceedings in the case shall be, as nearly as may be, in conformity with the rules relating to references to the High Court contained in Chapter XLVI of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(4) In every appeal the costs shall be in the discretion of the officer deciding the appeal.

(5) Costs awarded under this section to the Cantonment Committee shall be recoverable by the Committee as though they were arrears of a tax due from the appellant.

(6) If the Committee fails to pay any costs awarded to an appellant within ten days after the date of the order for payment thereof, the officer awarding the costs may order the person having the custody of the balance of the Cantonment Fund to pay the amount.

Section 53.

5. (1) No appeal shall lie in respect of the tax on buildings, unless it is preferred within one month after the publication of the notice prescribed by rule 13 (2) or rule 15 or after the date of any final order under rule 14, as the case may be, and no appeal shall lie in respect of any other tax unless it is preferred within one month from the time when the demand for the tax is made:

Provided that any appeal may be admitted after the expiration of the period prescribed therefor by this rule if the appellant satisfies the officer before whom the appeal is preferred that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal within that period.

(2) No appeal shall be entertained unless the appellant has paid all taxes due from him to the Cantonment Committee, up to the date of such appeal.

Section 54.

6. No objection shall be taken to any valuation or assessment, nor shall the liability of any person to be assessed or taxed be questioned, in any other manner or by any other authority than is provided in these rules.

Section 55.

7. The Cantonment Committee may, by written communication, call upon any inhabitant of the Cantonment to furnish such information as may be necessary in order to ascertain whether such inhabitant is liable to pay any tax.

Section 56.

8. (1) The Cantonment Committee shall cause an assessment list of all buildings on which the tax on buildings is imposed to be prepared containing—

(a) the name of the street or division in which the building is situated;

(b) the designation of the building, either by name or by number, sufficient for identification;

(c) the names of the owner and occupier, if known;

(d) the annual value, area or length of frontage on which the building is assessed and

(e) the amount of the tax assessed thereon by the Committee.

(2) For the purpose of preparing the list, the Cantonment Committee may require the owners or occupiers of the buildings to furnish it with the returns of the measurements and of the rent or annual value.

Section 57.

9. When the assessment list has been completed, the Cantonment Committee shall give public notice thereof, and of the place where the list or a copy thereof may be inspected; and every person, claiming to be either owner or occupier of any building included in the list, and any agent of such person, shall be at liberty to inspect the list and to make extracts therefrom without charge.

Section 58.

10. (1) The Cantonment Committee shall at the time of the publication of such asssessment list give public notice of a time, not less than one month thereafter, when it will proceed to revise the valuation and assessment; and in all cases in which any building is for the first time assessed, or the assessment thereof is increased, it shall also give notice thereof to the owner or occupier of the building.

(2) All objections to the valuation and assessment shall be made in writing before the time fixed in the notice, or orally or in writing at that time.

Section 59.

11. (1) After the objections have been enquired into and the persons making them have been allowed an opportunity of being heard either in person or by authorized agent, as they may think fit, and the revision of the valuation and assessment has been completed, the amendments made in the list shall be authenticated by the signatures of not less than two members of the Cantonment Committee who shall at the same time certify that no valid objection has been made to the valuation and assessment contained in the list, except in the cases in which amendments have been entered therein; and, subject to such amendments as may thereafter be duly made, the tax so assessed shall be deemed to be the tax for the year commencing on the first day of January next ensuing, as also, in the case of a tax then imposed for the first time, for the period between the commencement of the tax and such first day of January.

(2) The list when amended under this section shall be deposited in the Cantonment Committee's Office, and shall there be open during office hours to all owners or occupiers of buildings comprised therein, or the agents of such persons, and a public notice that it is so open shall forthwith be published.

12. (1) The Cantonment Committee may at any time amend the list by inserting the name of any person whose name ought to have been inserted, or by inserting any building which ought to have been inserted, or by altering the assessment on any building which has been erroneously valued or assessed through fraud, accident or mistake, after giving notice, to any person interested in the amendment, of a time, not less than one month from the date of service of such notice, at which the amendment is to be made.

Section 60.

(2) Any person interested in any such amendment may tender his objection to the Cantonment Committee in writing before the time fixed in the notice, or orally or in writing at that time, and shall be allowed an opportunity of being heard in support of the same in person or by authorized agent, as he may think fit.

13. It shall be in the discretion of the Cantonment Committee to prepare a new assessment list every year, or to adopt the valuation and assessment contained in the list for any year, with such alterations as may in particular cases be deemed necessary, as the valuation and assessment for the year following, giving the same notice of the valuation and assessment as if a new assessment list had been prepared.

Section 61.

14. (1) A tax on buildings and lands other than a water-tax shall be paid by the owner of the property in respect of which it is payable.

Section 63.

(2) A water-tax shall be paid by the occupier of the property in respect of which it is payable.

15. (1) When any sum is due on account of a tax payable in respect of any property by the owner thereof, the Cantonment Committee shall cause a bill for the amount, stating the property and the period for which the charge is made, to be delivered to the person liable to pay the same.

Section 64.

(2) If the bill be not paid within ten days from the delivery thereof, the Committee may cause a notice of demand to be served on that person; and, if he does not within seven days from the service of the notice, pay the sum due, with any fee leviable for the notice, or show sufficient cause for non-payment, the sum due, with the fee, shall be deemed to be an arrear of tax.

(3) The amount of every such arrear, besides being recoverable in the manner hereafter provided by rule 15, shall, subject to any claim on behalf of His Majesty, be a first charge on the property in respect of which it is payable, and shall be recoverable, on application made in this behalf by the Cantonment Committee to the Collector, as if the property were an estate assessed to land revenue and the arrear were an arrear of such revenue due thereon:

Provided that nothing in this rule shall authorize the arrest of a defaulter.

16. Any arrears of any tax recoverable by the Cantonment Committee under these rules may be recovered, on application to a Magistrate having jurisdiction within the limits of the Cantonment, or in any other place where the person from whom the money is claimable may for the time being be resident, by the distress and sale of any movable property within the limits of his jurisdiction belonging to such person.

READ—

Punjab Government Resolution No. 1936 L. P., dated 16th November 1903.

Letter from the Government of India in the Home Department, No. 1275–1284, dated 17th August 1907.

Punjab Government letter No. 486 S., dated 10th June 1907, to all Commissioners, and replies thereto.

Report of the committee appointed to consider the future administration of plague measures in the Punjab.

RESOLUTION.

THE epidemic of plague in the Punjab during the past year was of unprecedented severity ; the number of deaths greatly exceeded that of any previous year, and the greater part of the province was scourged by a terrible affliction which was endured by the people with a patience and resignation that were wholly admirable. The Lieutenant-Governor was impressed with the importance of sparing no effort to assist the people in their struggle with the disease ; and he therefore decided to review the lines on which plague administration has hitherto been conducted with a view to ascertaining whether anything more can be done to improve existing methods in the light of the experience gained in the last three or four years. Commissioners were accordingly addressed on the subject early in the summer ; and while replies were being collected, His Majesty the King's gracious message with His Excellency the Viceroy's covering letter, and the Government of India's letter of the 17th August, were received. A small Committee, consisting among others of two Indian gentlemen as members, has recently been convened to consider and advise on the whole question.

2. For some considerable time past a special plague staff consisting of ten commissioned medical officers, three private practitioners, thirty assistant surgeons and fifty hospital assistants, together with compounders and menials, have been employed in fighting the disease, and this has been recently supplemented by the addition of six commissioned medical officers in July last. The services of four more commissioned officers have been applied for, and it is hoped that four military assistant surgeons will also be placed at the disposal of this

Government for plague duty. The large areas over which the staff have had to work have, however, seriously impeded the practical value of their efforts, and in order to avoid the disadvantages attendant on scattered resources and to ensure that the maximum of benefit is obtained from their work, the Lieutenant-Governor has recently decided to concentrate the staff in the worst infected districts instead of posting them in insignificant numbers throughout the province.

3. The measures for combating plague which were advocated in the resolution of this Government of November 1903 have, for the most part, stood the test of time and experience, and will need but little alteration to adjust them to the latest conclusions of scientific research.

The measures which still hold the field as practical and useful palliatives for dealing with the disease are evacuation, inoculation, rat destruction and disinfection by heat. The value of chemical disinfection has been largely discounted by experience and research, both as a practical measure and also as a definite prophylactic against plague, and it is unnecessary to include it any longer in the programme of measures for dealing with the disease.

4. The most important and efficient remedy against the spread of plague lies in the evacuation of inhabited sites for a period sufficient to tide over the presence of infection. The value of the measure is beginning to be understood and appreciated in the portions of the province which have suffered most severely from plague, but its practical effect is largely neutralised by the incomplete and unsatisfactory manner in which it is generally carried out. Apart from the inconvenience entailed in leaving house and home for considerable periods, the main obstacles to voluntary and sustained evacuation consist in the difficulty of insuring the safe custody of property, the inability of the poorer members of the community to provide themselves with shelters, and religious and personal prejudices on the part of certain sections of the population.

5. In order to assist the people in overcoming, as far as possible, practical obstacles of the nature referred to, the Lieutenant-Governor has decided to place at the disposal of Deputy Commissioners sums of money to be utilised for the express purpose of encouraging evacuation in rural areas in the manner which may be found most appropriate to the circumstances of individual villages or tracts. The sums so allotted should be expended as a rule in villages where complete evacuation has taken place, but the Deputy Commissioner will be allowed to exercise his discretion should he find that a restriction of this nature is prejudicial to the encouragement of evacuation in his district.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor finds it impossible to frame any specific scheme for the encouragement of evacuation and, in view of the varying conditions and needs of different tracts in the province, he can only indicate on general lines the objects on which expenditure can usefully be incurred and leave it to district officers to utilise their allotments to the best advantage. In the first place the protection of property will in cases where the villagers are unable to make adequate arrangements for themselves entail the entertainment and payment of additional chaukídárs, who should as far as possible be engaged through the headmen of the villages. In areas where extensive evacuation has taken place, police patrols will be useful to control the movements of thieves; but police should not be employed to guard villages or camps. Secondly, assistance should be given, wherever possible, in providing huts or the materials for hutting. Those who are able to do so should pay for what they use; but materials may be given free, or a sum of money allotted to villages, for the express purpose of providing shelter for the poor. Thirdly, when no other money help has been given, rewards may be granted either collectively to a village or individually in cases where effective evacuation has taken place or a definite object-lesson has been presented to the countryside. Any assistance given in combating religious or social prejudice against the measure may also be suitably rewarded.

7. In the case of towns complete evacuation is practically impossible; and the measure is at best a palliative, and a means of escape for the individual. His Honour hopes, however, that municipalities will use every endeavour to encourage evacuation by the provision of sites, the erection of huts for the poor, and by any other method that may be feasible.

8. The provision of facilities for inoculation has been a feature of the plague policy of Government for some years past, and it is only necessary to continue the efforts which have been made by advice and suasion to bring its advantages home to the people. The existing provision of inoculation stations at the head-quarters of tahsíls, at dispensaries where there are assistant surgeons, and in municipal towns will be continued, and the services of the special plague staff will be utilised to the full in all cases where the measure seems likely to be popular. The co-operation of lady doctors for the inoculation of females should be enlisted wherever possible; and it is intended to entertain a certain number of them if competent persons can be found. The dissemination of leaflets on the subject has for some years past been and will still continue to be a prominent feature of plague policy in the Punjab. Every endeavour will in short be made to popularise the measure and to bring it immediately within reach of the general population.

9. Rat destruction has been systematically carried on for more than a year past by gangs of trained coolies in the charge of hospital assistants and compounders under the immediate supervision of assistant surgeons and subject to the general control of the district plague medical officer. Very extensive areas have been treated by these gangs, and the evidence accumulated as the result of these efforts tends to shew that the measure is useful when carried out systematically, and with persistence. There seems to be no general prejudice against the measure, which has the advantage of requiring little or no technical skill in its operation and entails a minimum of inconvenience; and the Lieutenant-Governor thinks that there need be no hesitation in offering facilities for carrying it into effect in all places where there is a demand for it. Accordingly the existing official agency referred to above will be retained, and it will be left to local officers to use this and any other agency that can suitably be employed in such manner and to the extent that local circumstances may require. It should be remembered that rat-destruction should not be undertaken or continued in a village that has already become infected.

10. Disinfection by heat is a simple expedient which is believed to be of considerable practical value, and the full effects of the measure can be obtained by merely burning fires on the floors of houses and spreading the hot ashes into every corner of the rooms. In order to encourage resort to this remedy, the fuel required may both in towns and in villages, where this is necessary, be supplied free of charge to those who are really unable to afford the expense.

11. The four main remedial measures for combating plague have been briefly outlined above, but no appreciable degree of success in dealing with the disease can be attained except by the active and willing co-operation of the people themselves; and it is to secure this end, more than any other, that the efforts of Government and its officers must be constantly directed. A cardinal principle of all plague administration must be the complete absence of pressure or compulsion in any shape or form; and encouragement, persuasion, and the provision of facilities for carrying out the measures advocated are the only legitimate means of influencing and guiding public opinion in the direction desired. In addition to the direct assistance and inducements to co-operation which it is proposed to offer in the manner indicated above, the Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that the following subsidiary measures may suitably be adopted as practical methods of winning the confidence and good will of the people.

12. In the first place the staff of medical officers on plague duty will be supplied with a liberal quantity of medicines for the treatment not merely of plague cases but of the sick generally in all villages which they may visit in the course of their tours. This will not only bring them into closer touch with the people, but will also, it is hoped, induce the villagers to regard the advice they have to offer on the subject of plague as friendly counsel to which heed should be paid. Secondly, an enlargement of the agency for dealing with plague should be feasible by instruction in plague measures given to the zaildár or other notables in rural circles, and by the entertainment and employment by local bodies of hakíms as plague missionaries. This should effect a very marked expansion of the agency available and enable instruction in anti-plague measures to be brought within the immediate reach of every village in the province. The allotments already placed at the disposal of Deputy Commissioners for rewards for good service in connection with plague will be doubled. Thirdly, the co-operation of the leaders of the people should be sought and utilised by the formation of district committees, whose mission it would be to disseminate information and advice on the subject of plague within the limits of their spheres of influence. Fourthly, every effort should be made to approach the people through such local societies, if any, as concern themselves with their social and material welfare, and through the medium of the press. Fatwas dealing with the religious prejudice on the part of Muhammadans against evacuation have already been issued by one Anjuman and are about to be distributed throughout the province. Finally, Sir Denzil Ibbetson desires to impress upon all concerned, the enormous value of sympathy on the part of those engaged in combating this terrible scourge. Unfortunately, we are not yet in a position to adopt more than palliative measures; but we can at least put heart into the people, and encourage and assist them to fight the evil, by showing them that they have our deepest sympathies, and that we are ready and anxious to help them to the best of our ability.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor hopes to be in a position shortly to announce the allotments which it is proposed to make to the various districts in the province to be expended in the encouragement of plague measures. It is hoped that it may be possible to provide some Rs. 20,000 for each severely infected district. These allotments will be placed at the disposal of Deputy Commissioners, and will be expended by them without any undue elaboration of formality and audit which it is possible to avoid.

14. It must of course be recognized that in most cases the fight with plague resolves itself into a conflict with insanitary conditions and surroundings, and that sanitary reconstruction is really the weapon with which the disease can be successfully fought. This must necessarily be the gradual work of years of material and moral progress; but the Lieutenant-Governor would conclude by impressing on local bodies and the people generally that by paying special attention to cleanliness and sanitary and conservancy measures they can do much to keep the disease within bounds.

E. D. MACLAGAN,

Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

SCARCITY.

The 4th December 1907.

No. 83.—Notification.—The following is published for general information :—

No. 65 (Rev. and Agri.—Scarcity), dated Lahore, 15th November 1907.

From—The Hon'ble Mr. E. D. MACLAGAN, C. S., Chief Secretary to Government, Punjab,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department.

IN continuation of this office letter No. 43, dated the 29th of October 1907, I am directed to forward the following preliminary report prepared under the orders contained in paragraph VII of Appendix A of the Punjab Famine Code. As noted in the previous letter above alluded to, the distress caused by the recent failure of rains and the consequent rise in prices is in some degree or other felt throughout the province and the present report though dealing primarily with the more severely affected districts is applicable to the province at large.

2. The economic conditions of the province are marked by a few very prominent characteristics which are briefly as follows :—

(i) The prices both of food-grains and the fodder have for some little time been ruling extraordinarily high and in some districts are indeed higher than it was previously contemplated that prices would rule without actual famine prevailing. These high prices appear to be due partly to a large demand for food-grains outside India and partly to very large exports from the Punjab to the United Provinces. To a certain extent the height of the present prices is governed by anticipation of the coming distress, but there is reason to suppose that in most districts they will be subject to further increases and in some districts to considerable further increases.

(ii) The high range of prices has been accompanied by a very high price for labour which has been caused very largely by the recent years of plague and of course also by the high prices prevailing for food-grains.

(iii) Owing to comparatively good rains in the north of Rájpútána there has been so far little signs of the immigration from the south and the aimless wandering which are usually among the first indications of a coming famine.

(iv) The presence in the central portion of the province of the large new canal colonies affords a guarantee for the absence of some distress likely to prevail in the tracts adjoining these colonies and to a certain extent for the alleviation of distress in tracts remote from them, and at the same time the large irrigation works connected with the construction of the new Upper Jhelum and Upper Chenab canals affords a very large outlet for labour over a considerable part of the centre and north of the province.

3. The distress anticipated will be caused mainly by the fact that the unirrigated kharif throughout the greater part of the province has been little short of an absolute failure and that the failure of the autumn rains has rendered it exceedingly improbable that any but a small part of the area usually devoted to unirrigated crops in the rabi can this year be cultivated. A distinction has, however, to be observed between the conditions in the north and in the south of the province respectively. In the north, for instance, the rabi is usually the more important crop whereas over large areas in the south the zamíndárs depend mainly upon the kharíf. The north of the province has also of late years enjoyed a fair round of seasons whereas many districts in the south have been subjected to a cycle of distinctly bad years. The sowings for the rabi moreover are undertaken in the north at a later date than in the south and winter rains might be of use in the north and might fail to be of any help in the south. The north of the province is also less exposed to emigration from outside areas and being farther away from the badly affected area of the United Provinces has been subjected to less temptation towards export of its produce. On the whole it may be said that although there will be distress in all parts of the province which are dependent on rain alone the more severe forms of distress will be confined to the plains portion of the Delhi division.

4. Accordingly in the following table the figures for the areas sown and cropped respectively have been given separately for the province at large and for the Delhi division :—

It will be seen that although the rabi crops of 1906 and 1907 and especially the latter were above the assumed normal both in the province at large and in the Delhi division, the last two unirrigated kharif crops especially in the Delhi division have been below normal, and that of 1905 very markedly so.

5. The nature and extent of the anticipated failure of crops may be gathered from my letter of the 29th of October 1907, and generally speaking it may be said that the unirrigated kharif and rabi crops throughout the province will be on an exceedingly small scale and that in the greater part of the Delhi division there will be practically no unirrigated kharif and so far as can be seen at present little or no chance of anything more than a nominal rabi on unirrigated lands. The crops dependent on irrigation will on the whole be of fairly satisfactory character, though there are places where the canals have failed to give the usual supplies and others where the sowings have been too widely extended to admit of full irrigation, and as is always the case even the irrigated crops will feel the want of the aid given by satisfactory rains.

6. The distress will probably not be of any great intensity except in small isolated areas anywhere outside the Delhi division. Within that division most of the districts will be exposed more or less to severe distress, and as formerly reported there can be little doubt that famine conditions will soon prevail into two of the districts, namely Rohtak and Gurgaon. It is doubtful whether this position, though it would certainly be modified by good rains at or about Xmas time, can be very much improved even by such rains, and under ordinary circumstances it must be anticipated that even if the next monsoon should be favourable one the distress and famine conditions will prevail until at least the middle of the summer of 1908.

7. The distress will probably affect most severely the menials and more indolent classes of cultivators in the agricultural tracts, and the day labourers, poorer citizens, and shopkeepers, and indigent women of the upper middle class in towns.

8. As noted above there has been a considerable export even from distressed districts in this province both of food-grains and fodder to the United Provinces. Within the districts themselves which are likely to be affected communications are on the whole satisfactory and there is little likelihood of famine being felt merely on account of the inability of the people to import grain owing to want of communications. The food stocks are in some districts fairly plentiful, but as a rule have been running short and are specially small in the eastern and southern districts, and much the same may be said as regards the fodder supply generally. Water will not in most districts present a very great difficulty, but in a few tracts there are complaints already of the failure of water in the tanks.

9. Steps have already been taken in all districts to undertake the preliminary measures prescribed by the Famine Code and in the districts more markedly affected Charge Officers for Relief Circles are being selected, small sums are being distributed to police stations for the relief of wanderers, charitable relief is in some places being organised, and repairs to roads are being carried out as a means of testing the existence of distress. Actual test works have not yet been started in any district, and hitherto the supply of labour on public works even in the worst districts has not shown any urgent necessity for the starting of test works, but it is apprehended that they will be necessary almost immediately in the Gurgaon and Rohtak districts. Famine relief will probably be required in the districts of Gurgaon and Rohtak before Xmas and in certain contingencies similar relief though perhaps not in the form of relief works may be found necessary in the Delhi and parts of Hissar and perhaps of Karnal shortly after the commencement of the new year.

10. The state of the relief programmes is understood to be satisfactory and they have lately been overhauled by the Public Works Department in which an Executive Engineer has been placed on special duty to complete the preparations. The programme of the Patiála State was not found to be adequate and the Darbár have been asked to reconsider it in order to provide a larger number of works suitable for famine relief.

11. The Financial Commissioner has made enquiries in the various districts and has submitted an estimate of the suspensions and remissions required which shows that a sum of 19 lakhs will probably have to be suspended and that a sum of 3 lakhs will probably be remitted owing to the cessation of the rains and the failure of the kharif of 1907.

12. The additional demand for taccávi advances has been recently under the consideration of the Financial Commissioner and on the information supplied by him the Government of India has recently been asked to sanction an allotment of 15 lakhs for class I loans in addition to the 8½ lakhs already allotted to this province. It is impossible to form even an approximate estimate of the probable expenditure upon relief until the situation develops further.

(1) In the case of articles on which ad valorem rates are shown, octroi will usually be levied on the local market value of the goods imported. Bills, invoices or documents, of a like nature, when exhibited will facilitate the appraisement, but the municipal committee reserve to themselves the right to reject any invoice which they consider does not show an approximately correct value. This rule applies to goods imported from over seas as well as to Indian products,—vide Punjab Government notifications No. 236, dated 15th April 1907.

(2) Articles comprised partly of dutiable and partly of non-dutiable materials will be charged octroi as if the whole were comprised of the dutiable material.

(3) Articles comprised of materials on which the rates of octroi differ will be charged octroi at the rate leviable on the most highly assessed component.

(4) When consignments are mixed and declarations in detail are not produced, or are not available, the whole consignment will be charged on its gross weight or value, at the rate leviable on the most highly assessed article contained in the consignment.

(5) Fractions of an eighth of a maund will be charged as the full eighth.
When the total quantity imported is less than 5 seers the full rate for 5 seers will be levied, unless the duty on 5 seers is less than 3 pies, in which case such consignment will be free.

(6) The minimum charge on a consignment of 5 seers shall be 3 pies.
